EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Fiscal 2017-2018 was a pivotal year for Telefilm Canada. As our nation celebrated its 150th anniversary of Confederation, Telefilm also marked a half-century of developing and promoting Canada's film industry.

GOVERNANCE IN TRANSFORMATION

In 2017-2018, Telefilm delivered the third and final year of its strategic plan, Inspired by Talent. Viewed Everywhere., under the stewardship of our longstanding leaders—former Chair of the Board Michel Roy and former Executive Director Carolle Brabant. Both took well-deserved bows and left significant legacies that first began when they dared the industry to change. The transition to G. Grant Machum and Jean-Claude Mahé, Acting Chair and Acting Executive Director respectively, proved successful, while the processes began for selecting Governor in Council appointees.

INCREASED INDUSTRY SUPPORT

Telefilm's industry support reached $106.3 million, the highest level since 2010-2011. This support was driven, in part, by an additional $5 million annually, as announced in the 2016 federal budget, and a one-time transfer of $2.5 million from the Department of Canadian Heritage.

PROMOTION AND EXPORT: REACHING AUDIENCES EVERYWHERE

Telefilm expanded its presence and promotional efforts to connect Canadian content and talent with audiences around the world. Canada's 150th anniversary was commemorated by celebrations and honours on the international scene. In particular, Canada shone brightly in Germany, as the Country of Focus at the 2018 European Film Market in Berlin; in Mexico, at the 20th Guanajuato International Film Festival; in Scotland, at the 2018 Glasgow Film Festival; in India, at the 48th International Film Festival of Goa; and in China, at the Ullens Center for Contemporary Art in Beijing.

Export activities were bolstered with the deployment of our new international website RDVCANADA.CA, which offers a rendez-vous with Canadian content and talent in the world's spotlight, including at festivals and markets around the globe. Additional funding also enabled the expansion of international initiatives such as the Canada Now arthouse tour in the United States, Mexico, United Kingdom and China. Furthermore, the Eye on TIFF screenings added events in Paris and London, and the RENDEZ-VOUS CANADA iTunes boutiques brought Canadian films to over 350,000 viewers in Canada, the United States, Germany and France.

At home, Telefilm focused on the discoverability of new talent and access to content across the country. Telefilm increased the number of national promotional initiatives it supports by 17%, supporting 75 Canadian film festivals and 80 industry activities in all. Finally, at its apex, the Movie Nights Across Canada red carpet screenings of Canadian films drew 10,000 moviegoers and over 9 million fans on social media.

FUNDING PROGRAMS FOR THE FUTURE

Fiscal 2017-2018 also marked a turning point for Telefilm as a funder. Telefilm led an industry-wide effort to ensure that the Canadian audiovisual sector was more inclusive: we implemented structural changes aimed at achieving gender parity, ensuring Indigenous representation, encouraging diversity, and bolstering support for emerging talent.

After our first year, following the implementation of a five-prong action plan, results are encouraging, although the 2020 objective for gender parity remains a challenge.

Furthermore, Telefilm met and exceeded its funding commitment of $4 million for Indigenous filmmakers. In addition, Telefilm, along with industry partners such as the Canada Media Fund, jointly supported the creation of the Indigenous Screen Office—a sustainable, autonomous entity dedicated to supporting and advocating on behalf of Indigenous creators.

Telefilm also increased its commitment in the next generation through the new Talent to Watch Program—which will now support up to 50 projects annually from emerging creators. This expanded Micro-Budget Production Program will start during the next fiscal year.

Telefilm also continued to diversify our funding sources, with a particular focus on international coproduction, including Eurimages – the European Council Support Fund. Since becoming the 38th member country, Eurimages has provided 2.2 million euros to seven Canadian coproductions. Furthermore, Telefilm financed 17 international coproductions for a total of $24 million.

A RESPONSIBLE ADMINISTRATOR

Telefilm ensured that organizational excellence was maintained through measurable objectives. Our client satisfaction surveys revealed an above-target satisfaction rate of 85%, and our management expense ratio, at 5.7%, met expectations. Other performance indicators were refined to ensure that maximum value is delivered to the industry.

Our commitment to improving service delivery to the industry is the driving force behind the development of Dialogue, our new service platform, in collaboration with the Canada Media Fund. The platform reached its full potential this fiscal year, having both Telefilm and Canada Media Fund funding programs on board. This project is expected to be completed by the end of fiscal 2018-2019.

Telefilm also transferred $0.5 million of administrative budgetary savings into funding programs, and was honoured to have won the Gold Award in the 2017 Awards of Excellence in Corporate Reporting for Crown corporations from the Chartered Professional Accountants of Canada.

LOOKING AHEAD

Telefilm defined its future orientations with the launch of our new strategic plan, See Bigger 2018-2020, which will guide the organization for the next three fiscal years. The new vision put forward in the strategic plan outlines four key areas of action.

As Telefilm embarks on this new undertaking to see bigger, it is clear that we are now more flexible and open than ever before, truly an organization for today and tomorrow—more strongly positioned to serve the Canadian industry and Canadian talent.

ABOUT US

OUR VISION

Canadian productions, on all consumption platforms, in Canada and abroad.

OUR MISSION

Telefilm's mission is to foster and promote the development of the Canadian audiovisual industry by playing a leadership role through financial support and initiatives that contribute to the industry's commercial, cultural and industrial success.

WHAT WE DO

First and foremost, we are a team of some 180 enthusiasts of Canadian media content dedicated to the commercial, cultural and industrial success of Canada's audiovisual industry.

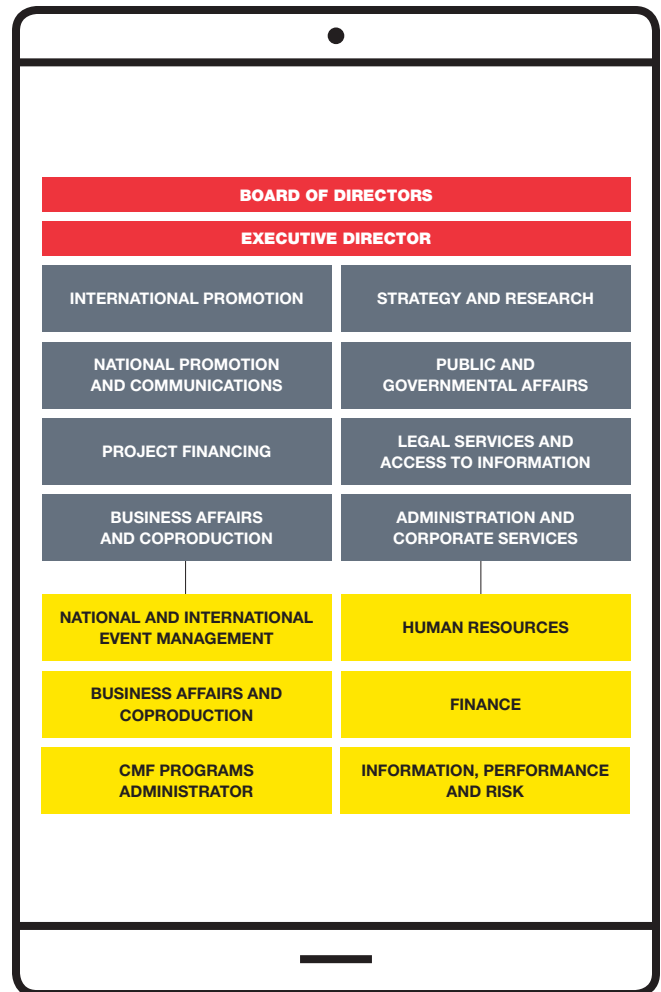

As a Government of Canada Crown corporation, in the Canadian Heritage portfolio, we support dynamic companies and creators, providing financial support to Canadian film projects as well as promoting and exporting Canadian content at festivals, markets and events – regionally, nationally and around the world.

We are responsible for making recommendations to the Minister of Canadian Heritage on whether projects can be recognized as audiovisual treaty coproductions. We also administer the funding programs of the Canada Media Fund (CMF), which totalled $343.2 million in fiscal 2017-2018.

Headquartered in Montréal, we serve our clients through four offices located in Vancouver, Toronto, Montréal and Halifax.

ACCOUNTABILITY

A strong corporate governance framework enables the Board of Directors and the Executive Director to lead the Corporation and deliver on our mission. By its design, Telefilm's organizational structure ensures that the Corporation's departments are accountable to the Executive Director in the delivery of our strategic plan (see Governance section for more details).

OPENNESS

STAYING CONNECTED WITH OPEN AND CONTINUOUS COMMUNICATIONS

The organization is committed to consulting, informing and holding a continuous and open dialogue with diverse members of the industry regarding opportunities, challenges and changes. Whether with film producers, distributors, broadcasters, professional associations, provincial agencies or directors and writers, we stay connected across Canada through three major streams of communication:

- presence at industry events;
- availability for one-on-one conversations with stakeholders across the country; and
- outreach sessions to consult with and inform the industry, which were held in Montréal, Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto, St. John's and Halifax.

In 2017-2018, Telefilm also strengthened its communications with the public and the industry. Online platforms are efficient and effective tools for sharing important messages and essential to conducting core operations, these include:

MESSAGE FROM THE ACTING CHAIR

In October 2017, it was with genuine enthusiasm that I accepted to take over on an interim basis from Michel Roy, who had been Chair of Telefilm's Board of Directors since 2007.

Enthusiasm because Telefilm is a respected, dynamic organization that maintains stimulating relationships with its clients and partners, and works tirelessly to meet the current financing, promotion and export challenges of the audiovisual sector.

I am pleased to have an experienced and committed Board and employees who, from Halifax to Vancouver, are the best team the industry could hope to have.

Michel Roy accomplished a great deal during his 10 years as Telefilm's Chair, and his achievements go well beyond providing the organization with an excellent governance structure. He put the emphasis on our relationships with clients while calling on the industry to dare to change. In fact, the audiovisual community has adapted to a rapidly changing environment by fostering cultural success and making Canadian content accessible at home and abroad. Our country's 150th anniversary and Telefilm's 50th anniversary celebrations in 2017 brought Canadian talent to the forefront.

I would also like to salute Carolle Brabant, who left Telefilm in March 2018 after a 28 year career, the last eight as Executive Director. Ms. Brabant revitalized Telefilm's roles as an investor, promoter, trusted resource, and sound administrator by focusing on partnerships and the next generation of talent. Her commitment to diversity is paying off, as our programs are well on their way to reaching objectives with respect to gender parity, Indigenous voices and cultural communities.

We can be pleased with the results achieved in recent years. Canadians now have a greater appreciation for cinema, which is one of our primary goals. And on the international scene, new partnerships, including Canada's participation in Eurimages, the European Cinema Support Fund, are expanding coproduction and the export of our cinema.

SEE BIGGER: FINANCING, PROMOTION, ADMINISTRATION

We will continue Telefilm's mission by encouraging innovation and building on our experiences, two key themes in the 2018-2020 strategic plan See Bigger.

We will achieve this by emphasizing three areas of action: leveraging the industry's financial resources, strengthening promotion of Canadian talent, and continuing to excel in our operations.

In the coming months, Telefilm's Board will focus on the industry's funding mechanisms. We will work to ensure the sustainability of the Talent Fund, which provides support for the next generation of Canadian creators. I wish to recognize the Talent Fund Advisory Committee members for their commitment, passion and continued generosity.

Telefilm will continue to support quality production and dynamic companies in a context of heightened global competition where it has become increasingly important to export our content.

Telefilm will help improve Canadian film by supporting promising new talent in creation and production, and by advancing principles of diversity and representation on screen.

We enthusiastically celebrate successes, and value the cultural and economic impact of Canadian audiovisual content to make Canadians increasingly proud.

Telefilm relies on its organizational flexibility to respond to the audiovisual industry and to develop new partnerships that will benefit the industry, both at home and abroad.

We will continue to work towards improving overall performance and seeking to better meet our clients' expectations.

I would also like to thank Jean-Claude Mahé, Director, Public and Governmental Affairs, for taking on the challenge of being Acting Executive Director. Mr. Mahé has spent his career with the National Film Board of Canada and Telefilm. His expertise and industry knowledge have ensured that Telefilm continues to move forward during this transitional period.

And finally, my congratulations to all the talented creators who have honoured our culture in 2017-2018, as well as my best wishes to all those who will bring our diversity to the screen in the coming year!

G. Grant Machum

and Chair of the Nominating,
Evaluation and Governance Committee

MESSAGE FROM THE ACTING EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

During both Canada's 150th and Telefilm's 50th anniversaries this past year, I was greatly impressed by the passion and dedication with which our industry, including our public and private partners, rallied to make our cinema shine at home and abroad like never before.

This was exemplified by Movie Nights Across Canada, which enjoyed great visibility in several major cities from coast-to-coast, and by Canada Now, a showcase of Canadian cinema that made its way to several American cities and travelled throughout Mexico, China, and the United Kingdom.

What's more, audiences in Canada, Germany and the United States discovered a large selection of Canadian films through our RENDEZ-VOUS CANADA promotional boutiques on iTunes. At home, Encore+, an initiative led by our partner the Canada Media Fund, offered thousands of hours of Canadian content to audiences on YouTube.

This thrust towards increased promotion and better accessibility of Canadian content was the culmination of our 2015-2018 strategic plan Inspired by Talent – Viewed Everywhere. A study carried out in 2017 confirms that we are on track and that Canadians appreciate Telefilm's role: more than 75% of respondents say it is important for the government to support distinctly Canadian productions, that Canadian talent should be promoted, and that they are proud when our talent shines abroad.

Another positive sign is that the Success Index, which objectively measures the Canadian and international performance of films in our portfolio, rose by 13% in 2017, due to a marked jump in domestic box-office results and in private and foreign contributions for financing feature films.

SUPPORTING CANADIAN TALENT AT HOME AND AROUND THE WORLD

This year, we supported the production of 141 feature films, as well as the development of 348 projects. More than 50 coproduction projects with 20 countries were recommended by Telefilm for official certification.

Despite stiff international competition, seven Canadian coproduction projects were greenlighted by Eurimages in our first year as a member country. To celebrate its partnership with Canada, Eurimages will hold its next meeting in Montreal in June 2018, during which we will warmly welcome delegates from 37 European countries.

Telefilm also saw its parliamentary appropriation increase in this fiscal year – new monies that were dedicated to the international promotion of our industry in the aim of increasing the export of our products.

In that vein, Telefilm supported industry participation in 39 international events in 2017-2018. In all, Canadian films were selected in 68 festivals around the world where they garnered 20 awards. Canada was also the Country of Honour in Goa (India), Guanajuato, (Mexico), and at the European Film Market in Berlin.

TALENT AT THE HEART OF TELEFILM

At the heart of all we do is, of course, the talent. Led by filmmakers Robin Aubert (The Ravenous), Jennifer Baichwal and Nick de Pencier (Long Time Running), Cory Bowles (Black Cop), Sophie Dupuis (Chien de garde), Sadaf Foroughi (Ava), François Girard (Hochelaga, Land of Souls), Kathleen Hepburn (Never Steady, Never Still), Kim Nguyen (Eye on Juliet), Pascal Plante (Fake Tattoos), and Mina Shum (Meditation Park), to name but a few, Canada produced work that contribute to important discussions and reflect our worldview.

A notable example of this is Indian Horse from Stephen Campanelli, a film based on the novel by Anishinaabe author Richard Wagamese about residential schools and the power of Indigenous peoples. This reconciliation-themed film has earned acclaim nationwide and has already grossed over $1 million at the box office.

AN ORGANIZATION FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW

The audiovisual community has evolved by successfully engaging with greater diversity on both sides of the camera. Thus, 44% of new feature films supported this fiscal year were directed by women, 46% were written by women, and 48% were produced by women. We also increased our support to Indigenous projects to $5 million, and contributed to the creation of the Indigenous Screen Office. Our cinematography is adorned with inspiring voices, and more will come.

At the same time, Telefilm is embracing its role as a talent incubator. New filmmakers, new ways of telling stories and reaching audiences, new companies across Canada: the industry has high expectations for the new Talent to Watch Program, which takes over from the Micro-Budget Production Program and will fund an unprecedented 50 first feature films each year!

Meanwhile, we continue to strive for organizational excellence. Our management expense ratio remained under 6% once again and we reinvested significant administrative savings in the industry, while always maintaining our client satisfaction rate.

With a new strategic plan in place, I began 2018-2019 by working with my Management Committee colleagues to put into action new guiding principles: see bigger; question and innovate; be inclusive; work together effectively, particularly with the Canada Media Fund; and reach audiences where they are.

Working in such a diverse and dynamic industry is a privilege I enjoy every day, and I thank Telefilm's Board, employees, and partners for their ongoing support.

I'm also grateful to the Talent Fund's Advisory Committee for their unwavering dedication. Thank you to the Fund's key partners, Bell Media, Corus Entertainment, the Royal Bank, Trinity Group, and Entertainment One among others, and to the many private donors for their important investment in our country's creativity, and especially in the next generation of talent.

Finally, I would like to thank two esteemed colleagues, Michel Roy, Chair of the Board and Carolle Brabant, Executive Director whose mandate ended during the year, for making Telefilm stronger, more flexible and more open than ever – truly an organization for today and tomorrow.

Jean-Claude Mahé
Acting Executive Director

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

The content of the Management Discussion and Analysis (MD&A) section was prepared by Telefilm management to present the results achieved in fiscal 2017-2018. The analysis was based on meaningful, relevant and reliable information, with such information subject to quality-control procedures and free of material or misleading errors. It provides a qualitative context and complete account of Telefilm's performance and outlook for the future. The MD&A was approved by the Management Committee and the Acting Executive Director, and was approved by the Board of Directors.

INDUSTRY AND ECONOMIC CONDITIONS

THE CANADIAN ECONOMY

The Canadian economy expanded in 2017, with gross domestic product (GDP) increasing by 3.0%³. Canadian GDP outperformed its 2016 growth level of 1.4%, driven by household consumption, including insurance and financial services, and vehicle purchases; business gross fixed capital formation, such as investment in machinery, equipment and residential structures; and, finally, business investment in inventories, with manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers adding to their stock levels.³

Canada's economy outperformed the average GDP growth rate of OECD member countries, which stood at 2.6%⁴.

THE AUDIOVISUAL PRODUCTION SECTOR IN CANADA

Total film and television production volume in Canada, which includes foreign location and service production, reached an all-time high of $8.4 billion in 2016-2017⁵ — a 24.3% increase over the previous year. Growth was driven by foreign location and service production, accounting for over two-thirds of the growth recorded.

As a subset, the total volume of Canadian theatrical feature film production volume increased by 13.6%, to $318 million, compared with 2015-2016 figures. Average budgets grew for both English-language and French-language productions ($3.2 million and $3.5 million, respectively). Despite a reduction in the number of theatrical feature films Canadian producers made (92 in 2016-2017 versus 105 in the previous year), the increase in average budget size allowed the overall production volume figures to grow, by 16.1%, to $216 million, for English-language productions, and by 9.8%, to $101 million, for French-language productions. In 2016-2017, film and television production in Canada generated 171,700 full-time equivalent jobs, including 6,600 in the Canadian film industry alone.

INDEPENDENT BOX OFFICE

In Canada, box-office sales for independent film increased by 8% compared to the previous year, with total sales reaching $220 million⁶. Canadian films are released into a highly competitive market, in 2017, a total of 732 films were released into the Canadian market; of these, 645 were independent films of which 122 were Canadian titles, while 87 were from Hollywood studios⁷.

Canadian films are defined as “independent,” meaning they are produced outside of the major film studio system, with marketing budgets that tend to be low by Hollywood standards.

Telefilm was an investor in 66 of the 122 Canadian films released in 2017. These Telefilm-funded films accounted for 54% of titles but delivered 97% of the box office of Canadian films. Canadian films captured 14.7% of independent box-office sales in Canada in 2017, which equates to $32.2 million.

7. Box-office sales are reported on a calendar-year basis.

SHARE OF FILMS SUPPORTED BY TELEFILM IN PRODUCTION AND THEIR BOX OFFICE BY LEVEL OF DIRECTOR'S EXPERIENCE

Director experience is an important factor when analyzing box-office performance. Expectations for first- and second-time filmmakers are focused on gaining experience and visibility, with expectations for box-office performance more tempered. First- and second-time directors (41%) of films supported by Telefilm in production, generated as anticipated, a fraction of box-office, at 21% in 2017. This is normal as early works are typically lower-budget films that act as a filter to identify new and promising creators. Films produced by more experienced directors represent 59% of projects; however, they account for over 79% of Canadian box-office sales⁸.

	% of projects	Box office
Experienced directors	 59%	 79%
First- and second-time directors	 41%	 21%

8. Data refers to 2017 box office (calendar year) for production films supported by Telefilm only, directed by first or second time feature film director compared to films directed by filmmakers with 3 feature films or more.

MEASURING THE SUCCESS OF THE PORTFOLIO OF INDEPENDENT FILMS FUNDED BY TELEFILM

Success Index

Telefilm's Success Index is a comprehensive measure that takes three types of success into account: commercial, cultural and industrial. Using 2010 as the baseline year, this key performance indicator evaluates changes in the overall success of the films Telefilm funds from year to year. The Success Index is calculated annually and is expressed as the sum of three weighted sub-indices:

The overall Success Index score increased by 13% in comparison to the 2016 level, driven by increases in the commercial and industrial components:

- The commercial component rose by 27% year over year and 10% over the base year (2010). Strong performances at the domestic box office drove this increase, driven largely by sequels of films well-known to Canadian audiences.
 - The sequels De père en flic 2 (Father and Guns 2) and Bon Cop, Bad Cop 2 both earned over $7 million at domestic cinemas
- The industrial score saw a 7% increase over 2016⁹, driven mainly by foreign investment and, to a lesser extent, by private investor contributions. This augmentation is in line with the increased activity seen in coproductions stemming from Canada's inclusion in Eurimages – the European Cinema Support Fund, which yielded very strong results in Canada's first year of membership.

9. Minority coproductions are not considered to be driven by a Canadian production company; therefore, Telefilm excludes the foreign financing of these productions in its calculation.

OTHER PLATFORMS

The popularity of online platforms and streaming sites continues to change the marketplace in Canada. Netflix disrupted the market upon entering Canada in 2011 and now has a considerable place within consumer behaviour, along with Google's YouTube. Facebook, iTunes and Amazon Prime Video are also battling for audiences in Canada along with homegrown services such as CraveTV, CBC TV, Ici Tou.TV and Club Illico. Audiences definitely have access to more content than ever, and the competition for consumer attention is fierce.

- Nearly 60% of Canadians declared visiting cinema theatres in the past 12 months¹⁰, following online platforms in terms of popularity, making it clear that going out to a movie theatre is still an activity popular among Canadians.
- Finally, it is evident that various channels accessed through cable subscriptions continue to play an important part in reaching a large segment of the Canadian market.

Viewing mediums used to access content in last 12 months

Online platforms and streaming services

10. Data is based on findings from Telefilm's 2018 survey of Canadians which will be published in fall 2018, under the title Canadian Audience Report 2018. The report is based on data from an annual survey of just over 3,000 Canadians conducted by Nielsen Research on behalf of Telefilm.

ACCESSIBILITY

Measuring and promoting access to Canadian content is an important component of Telefilm's overall strategy to increase demand for Canadian content and reach audiences. Among other metrics, Telefilm measures accessibility of feature films on both television and in cinemas.

The accessibility of Canadian films remained stable at cinemas and grew in terms of the proportion of films screened on television in 2017-2018. According to the Profile report, Canadians can watch theatrical films on more than 2,600 screens in movie theatres and have access to nearly 800 television channels, more than half of which are Canadian.

Telefilm also monitors accessibility levels on other platforms, particularly new online methods of accessing content. In fiscal 2017-2018, the Profile report stated that Canadians can subscribe to more than 30 subscription video-on-demand (SVOD) services, which includes Canadian services such as Club illico and CraveTV.

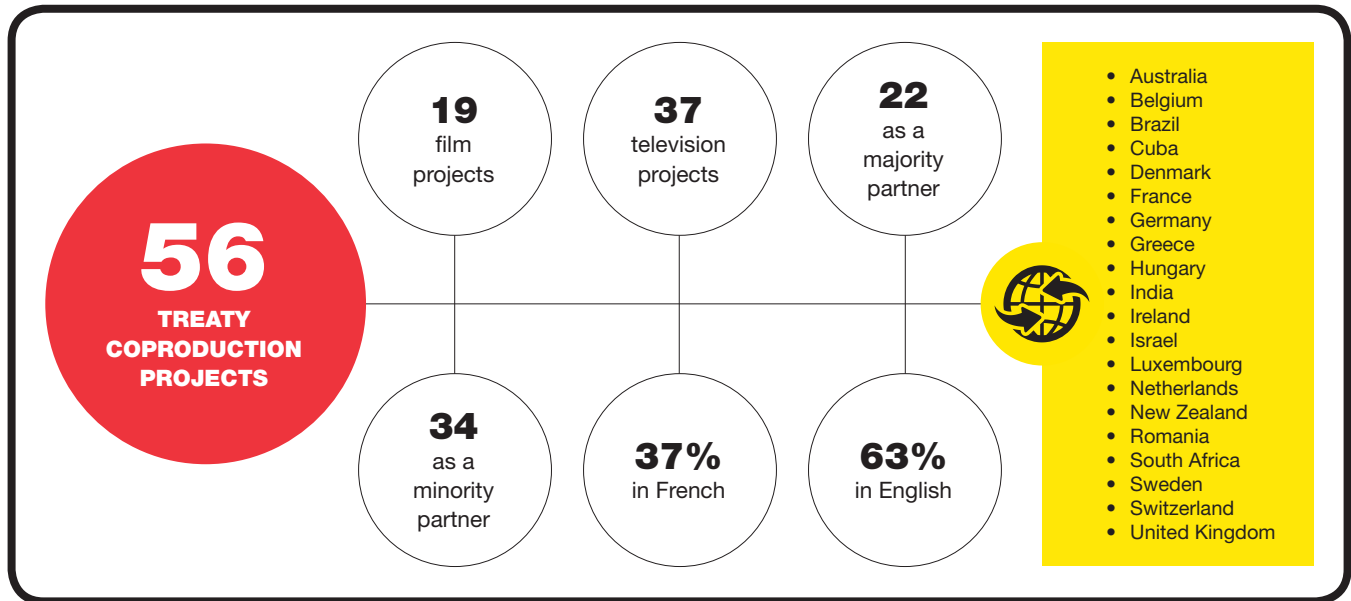

Along with these numerous additional platforms comes an enormous increase in content creation, with multinational companies like Netflix, Facebook, Apple and Amazon developing their own video content.

DEMAND, HOWEVER, IS STRONG, AND CANADIANS ARE AN AVID PUBLIC, watching an average of 28.2 hours of television along with another 3.1 hours per week of online television programming.

COPRODUCTION IN CANADA

Audiovisual treaty coproduction¹¹ has been an important vehicle for providing Canadian producers with financial participation from foreign sources and for promoting and exporting the works of Canadian creators internationally. In 2017-2018, total production budgets for 56 film and television treaty coproduction projects amounted to $406 million and involved 20 partner countries¹².

11. Treaty coproductions are defined as two or more production companies based in different countries combining resources to produce an audiovisual project for which they share economic risk, ownership, creative control, and benefits from their respective governments pursuant to the terms of a treaty. The level of each company's involvement in the project defines who is the majority producer and who is the minority producer. Coproduction applications must be certified by the Canadian government. To this end, Telefilm evaluates and recommends projects likely to be recognized by the Department of Canadian Heritage as audiovisual treaty coproductions.

12. Since fiscal 2016-2017, Telefilm reports coproduction levels based on the year of recommendation for certification. Prior year coproduction levels presented have been restated to reflect this change.

CORPORATE PLAN DELIVERY

Fiscal year 2017-2018 marks the third and final year of Telefilm's corporate plan, Inspired by Talent. Viewed Everywhere.

Development and Production Programs

- Performance-based selection that fosters a viable ecosystem
- Stable financing for performing companies

ACHIEVEMENTS

During the execution of its previous strategic plan, Telefilm put in place streamlined funding programs designed to support the industry. Since then, the effectiveness of funding programs and their compatibility with evolving market conditions have been evaluated on a continual basis, including through ongoing consultations with the industry.

In 2017-2018, improvements to funding programs included the following:

Increased development funding for documentarians, women, emerging and regional talent

- Documentarians: During the fiscal year, the Development Program was opened to creators who had previously produced a theatrically released documentary, as well as to production companies who had produced a film under the Talent to Watch Program (formerly known as the Micro-Budget Production Program).
- Women: Production companies submitting projects written by women and developed with a female producer gained access to additional funds. Telefilm's commitments totaled nearly $700K, surpassing its initially budgeted goal of $500K for projects in French, English and Indigenous languages. In terms of volume, 46 projects were supported through this initiative.
- Emerging and regional talent: Working with regional partner Creative BC, a joint initiative was launched to boost development funding available to production companies from British Columbia. This joint initiative between Telefilm and Creative BC ensures $30,000 in total development funding is made available to production companies that receive funding from Telefilm.

More support for emerging talent – Talent to Watch Program

In 2017-2018, Telefilm unveiled the Talent to Watch Program, which provides support to emerging filmmakers. Telefilm will support 50 films annually through the program, beginning in fiscal 2018-2019. An industry jury will aid in the selection of projects. The expansion is driven by the success of the Micro-Budget Production Program, aimed at funding first features and web projects in order to accelerate the career development of Canadian filmmakers. The Talent to Watch Program supported 17 films in 2017-2018; 72 have been produced since the program was launched in 2012-2013.

Simplified production funding recoupment

During the fiscal year, Telefilm began applying a simplified form of recoupment for projects with budgets of less than $2.5 million and for which Telefilm's financial participation is provided as a repayable equity investment. Recoupment will amount to 10% of the applicant's portion of production revenues received during the first 24 months of the project's commercial exploitation.

Opening
in May 2018!

Theatrical Exhibition Program: To ensure access to Canadian content

Telefilm designed its new Theatrical Exhibition Program during 2017-2018 to increase programming of Canadian films in theatres across Canada. This program will support Canadian commercial exhibitors' promotional expenses related to Canadian films and is designed to increase Canadian audiences' access to homegrown films.

DELIVERING ON MEASURES TO PROMOTE DIVERSITY

During the previous fiscal year, Telefilm, with the support of the industry, made the commitment:

- to build, by 2020, a representative and diversified feature film portfolio that better reflects Canada's population.

Throughout 2017-2018, Telefilm implemented measures, including adjusting its evaluation criteria, in order to:

- take into account its objective to foster a diversity of voices in the industry
- ensure a balanced portfolio of productions reflecting a variety of genres, budget, company sizes, regions across the country, and different viewpoints
- prioritize projects where the director, screenwriter and producer reflect the diversity of the country in terms of gender, Indigenous communities or cultural diversity, for projects of equal quality

Following their first year of implementation, these measures yielded the following results:

GENDER PARITY

With a clearly defined objective of achieving, by 2020, a balanced production portfolio, at all budget levels, that reflects parity in each of the key creative roles, results were measured in 2017-2018, demonstrating that:

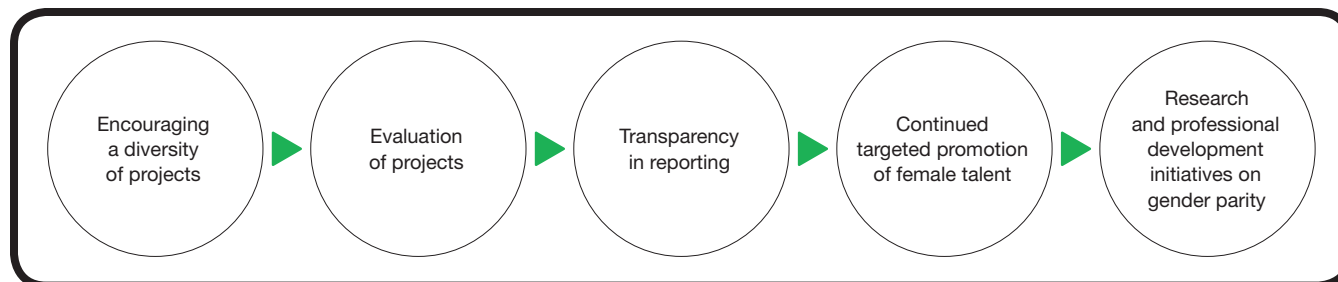

- 67% of projects had at least one woman in a key creative role
- 45% had at least two women in key creative roles

Women in scriptwriter, director or producer positions
All productions programs

Going forward, Telefilm will continue to focus on attaining a more representative portfolio by:

- prioritizing parity within larger budget investments, where women in creative roles are still underrepresented
- providing development funding to encourage more female-led projects
- continuing to implement its five step action plan, which includes:

INDIGENOUS CREATORS

Funding for Indigenous creators amounted to $5.3 million in 2017-2018, well surpassing the $4 million annual objective set by Telefilm. This includes commitments to support the Canadian Indigenous screen-based industry through the development, production and marketing of Indigenous content, as follows:

Development	$75,000	5 projects
Production	$5.1M	14 projects
Promotion	$161,000	8 projects

To ensure Indigenous creators are properly represented in its portfolio, Telefilm consults a working group of Indigenous industry members. This collaboration has led to decisions such as using creative teams in the definition of Indigenous content and the use of juries in content assessment and recommendations. In addition, Telefilm has begun prioritizing Indigenous representation in its workforce.

THE INDIGENOUS SCREEN OFFICE – A SUSTAINABLE AUTONOMOUS ENTITY THAT WILL HELP INDIGENOUS CREATORS AMPLIFY THEIR VOICES AND ENSURE A VIBRANT INDIGENOUS SCREEN-BASED INDUSTRY.

Indigenous Screen Office

In June 2017, following an announcement by the Honourable Mélanie Joly, Minister of Canadian Heritage, Telefilm signed an agreement along with the Aboriginal Peoples Television Network (APTN), the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation/Radio-Canada (CBC/SRC), the Canada Media Fund (CMF), the Canadian Media Producers Association (CMPA), and the National Film Board of Canada (NFB) to fund the Indigenous Screen Office (ISO). The partners are confident this collaborative effort will create a sustainable autonomous entity that will help Indigenous creators amplify their voices to ensure a vibrant Indigenous screen-based industry. In January 2018, Jesse Wenthe, an Indigenous community member and highly respected cultural industry leader, was appointed as Director of the ISO. The objectives for the first year will be to form an Advisory circle, including Indigenous representation from the diverse Canadian First Nations, and the development of a strategic plan.

DIVERSITY

Telefilm funds a diversity of projects that represent an impressive range of Canadian voices. This variety is reflected in genres, language market, director experience, budget level and the presence of talent from under-represented communities. Figures for 2017-2018 are as follows:

GUIDING PRINCIPLES ON HARASSMENT

As investors in Canada's creative industries, we are committed to working together, alongside our industry partners and stakeholders, towards taking measures that ensure a safe and respectful work environment for all.

OUR COMMITMENT

- Support a healthy ecosystem that thrives in a culture of mutual respect, dignity and inclusivity that is free from any form of harassment.

OUR GUIDING PRINCIPLES

- Support the prevention and eradication of harassment, in any form, in our own organizations and in the companies we support.
- Encourage the industry to respond to harmful behaviour in a timely and meaningful way.

WE BELIEVE THAT

- Creating and maintaining an inclusive and respectful workplace is everyone's responsibility.
- Harassment cannot be tolerated.
- Complainants and victims of harassment must be supported and protected.
- Safe reporting mechanisms should be put in place to protect complainants and victims.
- Awareness and education are critical to ensuring safe and inclusive workplaces for everyone.

WE EXPECT

- All companies that work with us or seek funding from us, to respect these principles, comply with relevant laws and implement policies and procedures for a harassment-free workplace.

These guiding principles are a first step in an ongoing process to create sustainable mechanisms to shift the current workplace culture in our creative industries. Telefilm, along with all stakeholders, will continue to work to achieve positive change.

EXAMINE NEW LONG-TERM FUNDING MECHANISMS

To diversify funding sources, Telefilm has identified coproductions and partnerships as key opportunities for the Canadian audiovisual industry.

Canada joined Eurimages – European Cinema Support Fund in 2016-2017, becoming its 38th member country and first non-European member country. Since joining the program, which aims to support the coproduction of cinematographic works between member countries through the Council of Europe, Eurimages has invested in seven Canadian projects for an amount of 2.2 million euros—proving Canada's notoriety as a coproduction's partner of choice.

ANALYSIS SHOWS THAT COPRODUCTIONS ACHIEVE BETTER RESULTS BOTH COMMERCIALY AND CULTURALLY, IN ADDITION TO YIELDING A BETTER RETURN ON INVESTMENTS FOR TELEFILM.

During fiscal 2017-2018, Telefilm financed 17 official treaty coproductions with investments totalling $24 million.

Moreover, as part of the 2016 federal budget, Telefilm was granted an additional ongoing $5 million parliamentary appropriation. Furthermore, Telefilm also benefits in 2017-2018 of a supplementary $2.5 million, from a one-time Memorandum of Understanding with Canadian Heritage. These additional funds have been entirely incurred in Telefilm's funding programs and promotional activities and the results are reflected throughout the annual report, allocation of funding is as follows:

ATTRACT FUNDING PARTNERS

In alignment with its funding pillar, Telefilm has also worked to attract additional funding sources for the Canadian audiovisual industry. It is recognized that Telefilm's film production funding acts as a catalyst to leverage financing from other sources. Telefilm uses its private sector-to-Telefilm investment ratio for film production¹³ to measure the ability of films to attract private and foreign financing. The ratio takes into account the total production financing from private sector and foreign sources versus the total production funding from Telefilm, with the objective of increasing the financial investments over time.

- The ratio stands at 1.47, meaning that $1.47 of private and foreign financing was invested in production budgets for every $1.00 Telefilm contributed.
- The increase was driven by foreign financing from coproductions.

Telefilm strives to finance its promotional initiatives through partnerships. By measuring and encouraging greater levels of private-sector investment for promotional activities, the leveraging effect and overall impact of Telefilm's promotional efforts increase. Telefilm monitors that level through its private-sector-to-Telefilm investment ratio for promotional activities.

- For every $1.00 invested by Telefilm, $1.80 was provided by the private sector.
- Additional parliamentary appropriation funding helped Telefilm increase its promotional efforts and spending on the international level in 2017-2018, which impacted the ratio result.
- Contributions from the private sector has not varied significantly versus previous years.

13. The ratio includes films supported in production only and excludes films supported through the Theatrical Documentary Program, mini-treaties and the foreign share of treaty coproduction budgets in which Canada is a minority or equal-share partner. The ratio is based on a three-year moving average.

GOING FORWARD

In the coming year, Telefilm will strive to accelerate advancement towards gender parity in its portfolio. Furthermore, Telefilm will continue to consult with different members of the audiovisual industry in Canada regarding increasing diversity in its portfolio at large.

Furthermore, Telefilm is looking forward to welcoming delegates from 37 member countries of Eurimages as Montréal hosts a quarterly meeting of the European funding agency in June 2018.

As Telefilm heads into its new strategic plan, it will assess industry needs and possible forms of funding sought by industry players, including initiatives to ensure alignment among private and public partners.

Telefilm will also seek to secure new private funding sources that will ensure the Talent Fund's sustainability, including studying best practices in philanthropic funding.

ACHIEVEMENTS

In 2017-2018, Telefilm continued to promote Canada's unique culture in order to grow the reputation of our talented creators and help accelerate the careers of the next generation.

CANADA ON THE INTERNATIONAL SCENE

In order to best leverage the success of Canadian talent on the international stage, Telefilm supports the attendance of Canadians at 39 international festivals around the world, including:

In our increasingly connected market, content can reach audiences around the world and a global perspective can allow the industry to thrive like never before. In fiscal 2017-2018, Telefilm, through additional funding from the Department of Canadian Heritage, strengthened its positioning of Canadian creators and Canadian content in priority markets in Europe and Asia. Namely, Canada was the Country of Focus at the European Film Market in Berlin and Canadian content was featured on promotional boutiques via iTunes in Europe. Furthermore, Canada was showcased at the International Film Festival of India and at the Ullens Center for Contemporary Art in Beijing, China.

SIGNATURE EVENTS

Telefilm continues to create and hold branded initiatives around the world. Signature events like Perspective Canada, Not Short on Talent and Eye on TIFF, among others, are designed to elevate global awareness and discoverability of Canadian talent, to drive the export of Canadian cultural products, and to inspire further international production investment in Canada. Telefilm is proud to partner with the Academy of Canadian Cinema and Television and the Consulate General of Canada in Los Angeles to celebrate Canadian Oscar nominees at the Canadian Toast to the Oscars event.

In 2017-2018, Telefilm added First Look—a screening series that gives the international acquisitions community a sneak-peak of Canadian films about to hit the circuit—to its export support initiatives.

In addition, Telefilm offered Perspective Canada market screenings at the Asian Film Market in Busan, South Korea and at FILMART in Hong Kong to increase the international exploitation and exposure of selected films and strengthen international relationships in the Asian market. To maximize the impact, Telefilm makes use of its RDVCANADA.CA, WeChat and Weibo social media accounts in the Chinese market to promote Canadian content and talent.

Telefilm's credibility and vast network attracts international sales agents, buyers and festival programmers to Canadian productions and talent. Year after year, international decision-makers attend our events to discover the best and brightest Canadian talent.

CANADA AT YOUR FINGERTIPS

To better promote Canadian talent and productions on the international marketplace year-round, Telefilm launched RDVCANADA.CA during the 2017-2018 fiscal year. In support of Telefilm's export activities, the website offers timely information regarding the Canadian presence and programming at international events, directories of productions, producers and production companies currently on the circuit, as well as news and editorial content. Telefilm regularly updates the site and produces a monthly newsletter for thousands of subscribers in the international audiovisual business community.

THE CANADA PAVILION: A BUSINESS HUB AT INTERNATIONAL MARKETS

To support international sales and facilitate coproduction networking opportunities, Telefilm organizes Canada Pavilions at key markets abroad. Offered in collaboration with Canadian provincial agencies and key industry partners such as the Canada Media Fund, these networking hubs reinforce strategic business relationships as well as the Canadian brand, supported by the promotional brand identity See Big.

Canada Pavilions were held at:

- Marché du film at Cannes;
- MIPTV (Cannes);
- MIPCOM (Cannes);
- European Film Market (Berlin);
- Marché international du film d'animation (Annecy);
- Sunny Side of the Doc (La Rochelle);
- FILMART (Hong Kong).

CANADA, COUNTRY IN FOCUS AT THE EUROPEAN FILM MARKET

Canada took centre stage as the Country in Focus at the 2018 European Film Market — the audiovisual market at the Berlin International Film Festival. Telefilm maximized Canada's presence by providing funding for 40 creators to represent the 17 Canadian films selected, showcasing a curated collection of 19 films as part of Perspective Canada as well as offering a preview of 12 films as part of the FIRST LOOK initiative. Telefilm promoted the launch of RDVCANADA.CA to the industry crowd onsite using an augmented reality application featuring Maurice the Moose. Finally, the spotlight was put on innovation with the "Let's Change with Blockchain!" program, the "Canada. Big on VR" selection of our country's top VR films in 2017, and the launch of our first international iTunes store, in Germany, offering the best in Canadian filmmaking all in one place.

Press coverage during the Berlinale positioned Canada as a major global player and had strong results with media reach of approximately 10 million.

EYE ON TIFF EXPANDS

Eye on TIFF events expanded to Paris and London in 2017-2018 and continued in Los Angeles and New York. The exclusive pre-festival screenings, organized by Telefilm, provide international distributors, sales agents and exhibitors with a sneak preview of some of Canada's most buzzworthy titles programmed at TIFF. In the aim of driving international sales, a curated show reel of films is presented during the event, with many of the creative teams in attendance.

REACHING AUDIENCES WHERE THEY ARE

Telefilm expanded its audience-focused promotional campaign in fiscal 2017-2018, making use of content marketing on key platforms. Social media remained at the core of this strategy, reaching audiences with key messages, whether on Facebook in Canada, Twitter in the U.S., Instagram in Germany or the U.K., or through Weibo or WeChat in China. Instagram Stories and Facebook Live showcased Canadian talent and Canada's presence on the national and international scene.

OVER 10 MILLION
SOCIAL MEDIA IMPRESSIONS

Our publications included calls to action, inciting audiences to attend Canada Now film screenings and viewers to discover Canadian films on the RENDEZ-VOUS CANADA iTunes boutique or to subscribe to the RDVCANADA.CA newsletter, designed to help followers stay up-to-date on Canada's talent and productions.

MEDIA MENTIONS OF TELEFILM WERE UP OVER
10% YEAR
OVER YEAR

In addition, targeted high-impact media relations strategies, including exclusives, interviews and press junkets, were used to ensure that positive messaging hits Canadian and international audiences and key industry stakeholders, including the international acquisitions community. Canada's presence at the Berlinale and Sundance as well as support for gender parity and emerging talent captivated news outlets and their readers in 2017-2018.

CANADA NOW

The Canada Now arthouse screening series of Canadian films grew in several priority markets in fiscal 2017-2018. The initiative launched in three new countries—the United Kingdom, Mexico and China—and expanded from its birthplace of New York City to additional cities in the United States, including Los Angeles and Washington.

These screenings attract audiences and build fans while also expanding the buzz around Canadian content to drive interest among international buyers. Telefilm makes use of media relations and social media tailored to each market to optimize impact and increase awareness.

These initiatives are made possible by Telefilm's network of partners, including Canada's consulates general and embassies, and local cultural institutions—such as the Ullens Center for Contemporary Art in Beijing, the American Film Center in New York City and film festivals, including the Guanajuato International Film Festival in Mexico.

DISCOVERABILITY ACROSS CANADA

Every year, Telefilm works to ensure that Canadian content connects with all Canadians across the country, from coast-to-coast-to-coast. Back in 2016-2017, stemming from the ongoing increased Parliamentary appropriation, Telefilm bolstered its activities in order to reach an even greater number of Canadians on an even greater variety of consumption platforms, including online, in-travel systems, and local film festivals. In 2017-2018, Telefilm iterated and went bold, from school programs to niche content festivals, from women-focused conferences to large internationally-recognized events. RENDEZ-VOUS CANADA ON ITUNES

The spotlight on Canadian films continues to shine through the RENDEZ-VOUS CANADA boutiques offered on iTunes. First launched in early 2017 as a partnership between Apple and Telefilm in celebration of Canada 150, the initiative continues to grow, with international iterations debuting in Germany for the Berlinale 2018 and in the United States for SXSW 2018. Going forward plans are set to launch in France as part of the 2018 Cannes Film Festival activities and in the United Kingdom during 2018. Films featured include the most successful titles from the recent past, as well as titles from our country's legendary filmmakers and new emerging talent. Telefilm uses social media campaigns to drive awareness and updates content regularly to include new releases, to tailor content to specific markets and to highlight films selected at major film festivals.

MOVIE NIGHTS ACROSS CANADA

A NATIONAL CELEBRATION OF CANADIAN TALENT

MOVIE NIGHTS ACROSS CANADA

Throughout 2017, Canada's 150th anniversary was celebrated with proud Canadians, across the country and around the world. The Movie Nights Across Canada red-carpet screenings of Canadian films, hosted by the Honourable Mélanie Joly, Minister of Canadian Heritage, Telefilm Canada, and public and private industry supporters, showcased the best and brightest film, television and digital talent from coast to coast in honour of this celebratory event. The films selected captured our unique stories and highlighted our thriving cultural and creative industries.

Eight screenings were held, including six during fiscal 2017-2018:

LEVEL OF AWARENESS OF CANADIAN FILMS AMONG CANADIANS

Telefilm measures the impact of its promotional efforts through an indicator regarding the level of awareness of Canadian films among Canadians. Awareness is the first step in reaching audiences, improving perceptions and stimulating demand for Canadian content over time. In 2017-2018, results showed that 46% of Canadians surveyed reported being able to name a Canadian film—a result that is in the range of prior year trends but represents a decrease over the previous fiscal year. Results from 2016-2017 were exceptionally strong, driven by two English-language films—Brooklyn and Room—that both performed well at the box office and obtained Oscar nominations.

Strong results from Bon Cop, Bad Cop 2 and De Père en Flic 2 helped raise the level of awareness in the French-language market but did not carry over heavily into the English-language market. In the English-market, Maudie made a strong impact on awareness, particularly in the Atlantic region.

GOING FORWARD

Going forward into its new 2018-2020 strategic plan, See Bigger, Telefilm will continue to promote the Canadian brand and talent both at home and abroad. To do so, Telefilm will develop a concerted approach for marketing and promotion and draw on its vast network at major international and national events and many partners to amplify the impact of its promotional campaigns and presence on key distribution channels.

Telefilm will continue to focus on exporting Canadian talent in priority territories as well as encouraging greater levels of coproduction partnership. Market research efforts will focus on gaining understanding of the international acquisitions community, in order to fine-tune export strategies.

Finally, Telefilm will reevaluate the performance indicators used to measure impact of promotional efforts both in Canada and internationally.

THOUGHT LEADERSHIP

MARKET INTELLIGENCE DECIDING WITH MEANINGFUL METRICS

CONDUCT AND COMMUNICATE VALUE-RELEVANT RESEARCH AND ENHANCE THE COMPREHENSIVE SUCCESS MEASUREMENT.

Canada's audiovisual industry is composed mainly of small- to medium-sized production companies with few employees and limited resources for research. In this context, Telefilm has a valuable role to play in gathering, analyzing and disseminating business intelligence that would not otherwise be available to these companies.

ACHIEVEMENTS

Telefilm provides relevant, action-oriented intelligence in two ways:

- first, by producing and commissioning research studies and supporting industry-led reports and,
- second, by supporting thought-provoking industry conferences and events.

Initiatives this fiscal year included:

Telefilm's Canadian Audience Report – Audience behaviour

This report provides an overview of film and television consumption habits on a variety of screens and platforms; measures engagement with Canadian content; and identifies opportunities to connect with audiences, particularly with the Curious and Belonging market segments¹⁴. The study was conducted by Nielsen Media Research on behalf of Telefilm and co-financed by the Canada Media Fund.

14. The Curious and the Belonging are two segments of the Canadian population that demonstrate the most potential for consuming Canadian content. To learn more, see page 12 of the Canadian Audience Report.

Profile 2017 – Economic Report on the Screen Based Media Production Industry in Canada

The Profile, Economic Report on the Screen-Based Media Production Industry in Canada, is an annual economic update on the domestic production industry. It provides a snapshot of Canada's main production segments—Canadian production, foreign location and service production, and broadcaster in-house production—and also features top-line numbers on convergent digital media production. Telefilm is proud to provide data and financial support for the report, which includes 10 years of historical trending.

The Economic Impact of Film Production – Case Studies

Telefilm supported the Canadian Media Producers Association's development of two case studies focused on the economic impact of film production. The case studies featured Maudie and Pyewackett and analyzed production-related spending and gross domestic product, federal and provincial tax revenues, and full time equivalent positions.

MediaPLUS

MediaPLUS+: women + diversity= the big picture

Telefilm provided support for Women in View's MediaPLUS women + diversity= the big picture toolkit which highlights best practices in the hiring of women, and people of diverse backgrounds, in order to address the lack of representation in the audiovisual industry. This work promotes inclusion, and its benefits to the industry and employers. The focus is on: making key decision-makers aware of effective Human Resource practices to ensure there is greater inclusivity; making the changes needed for safer, more progressive environments; and support training for talent who have not had opportunities to date.

INDUSTRY CONFERENCES AND THOUGHT LEADERSHIP EVENTS SUPPORTED ACCOMPLISHMENTS

All Access: On Screen Manitoba 2018	Telefilm contributed to this bilingual conference, specially adapted to address francophone producers outside of Quebec and filmmakers from the Prairies. Marie-France Godbout, National Feature Film Executive – French Market at Telefilm, participated on three panels: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Feature Films: Planning Financing and Distribution; • The International Marketplace: Support and Opportunities; and • Funding Canadian Content for Every Screen. Furthermore, Carolyn Pennell, Advisor from Telefilm, presented Telefilm's Canadian Audience Report.
Atomicon Entertainment Marketing Summit	Telefilm was pleased to partner with Brunico Communications to create the Atomicon Entertainment Marketing Summit. The one-day event brought together leading content marketing and entertainment industry experts, including producers, filmmakers and broadcasters, to discuss effective marketing and audience-building strategies. Throughout the day, marketing experts also explored innovative content ideas and delved into role of brands in today's content creation space.
Banff World Media Festival 2017	Francesca Accinelli, Director of National Promotion and Communications at Telefilm, moderated the “Discovering New Voices” conversation held at the Banff Media Festival 2017, looking at innovative ideas for finding and supporting Canada's next wave of storytellers. The panel featured Renee Laprise and Patricia Larsen, co-creators of the Lovely Witches Club, Aron Levitz, head of Wattpad Studios, and J. Joly, executive producer/CEO of The Coup.
Chromatic Pro	Telefilm brought together emerging talent funded through its Talent to Watch program and Canadian YouTubers to promote networking and encourage collaboration at this innovative event in Montréal. Telefilm's former Executive Director gave a speech and Arcade Fire's Régine Chassagne discussed “Art and Impact,” including her inspiring work in Haiti with The KANPE Foundation. Partners included INIS and Main Film.
Five in Focus Sessions	Telefilm partnered with Women in View, Women in Film and Television Atlantic and Status of Women Canada to host two Five in Focus Sessions each spotlighting five female directors in both Toronto and the Atlantic region. The directors chosen by the selection committee benefit from one-on-one meetings with producers, master classes with some of Canada's most respected media creators, and through participation at key industry events including the Women Making Waves conference.
Halifax Black Film Festival	Telefilm's Lori McCurdy, Regional Feature Film Executive – Atlantic Region moderated the panel discussion “Diversity Off and On Screen” at the Halifax Black Film Festival, which featured an exceptional group of industry professionals, including Laurens Grant, a three-time Emmy and a Peabody award-winning filmmaker; Tara L. Taylor, Cofounder and Festival Director of The Emerging Lens Cultural Film Festival; Koumbie, actress, dancer, director and producer; Fabienne Colas, creator and director of new Halifax Black Film Festival; and Jason Beaudry, Program Director at the FIN Atlantic International Film Festival.
Let's Change with Blockchain!	Mixing case studies and creative workshops, Let's Change with Blockchain! events were held at Berlin during the European Film Market, as well as during the SXSW Festival at the RDV CANADA bungalow. The presentation was made possible by Badel Media, Groupe Média TFO, Three Lefts, OVA and the Blockchain Association of Canada, in association with the CMF and Telefilm.
Montreal International Black Film Festival	The Montreal International Black Film Festival invited Marie-France Godbout, National Feature Film Executive – French Market at Telefilm, to participate in a panel on funding, particularly for current and new opportunities; the panel also looked at overcoming obstacles, with a particular focus on representatives from diverse communities. Furthermore, Michel Pradier, Director of Project Financing at Telefilm, took part in a panel on strategies for film distribution in a modern context.

St. John's International Women's Film Festival	Telefilm proudly sponsored alumni of its Talent to Watch program to share their experiences in making their first feature films. The panel featured Kirsten Carthew, writer and director of The Sun at Midnight, Stephanie Clattenburg, co-writer and director of Play Your Gender, and Harmony Wagner, director of Kooperman, and was moderated by Allison White, producer of Cast No Shadow.
The Korean Film Council (KOFIC) Global Forum 2017 (Seoul, South Korea)	Elisa Suppa, Senior Advisor at Telefilm Canada, delivered a keynote address at the 2017 KOFIC International Media Policies and New Global Trends Conference in Seoul, South Korea highlighting Telefilm's organizational transformation that began in 2010. The conference looked at the importance of film and culture and featured international speakers including Julien Ezanno, International Co-productions Director at France's Centre national du cinéma et de l'image animée (CNC); Edward Humphrey, Director of Digital at the British Film Institute; and Ted Hope, Head of Motion Picture Production at Amazon Studios.
Toronto international Film Festival industry conference	TIFF brings together outstanding filmmaking talent and industry leaders from around the world, and Telefilm is proud to support this flagship Canadian event. This year we supported panels and workshops including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In the Director's Chair: Lady Boss, featuring established Canadian female directors discussing their career development; • Canada's Class of 2017: Powered by Creativity, where Canadian directors with distinctive low-budget films at TIFF 2017 discussed the art of filmmaking powered by creativity; and • Going International: What to Know Before You Go! how to prepare for the competitive international marketplace.
VIFF Industry Exchange	Telefilm was a premier sponsor of this key industry event, which offers opportunities for executives and content creators to learn about the latest industry trends and developments and join leaders as they discuss the global environment and opportunities.
Women Making Waves (Halifax)	Telefilm was the presenting partner of a Spotlight Conversation featuring award-winning Mohawk filmmaker Tracey Deer, which was hosted by Juanita Peters, renowned storyteller, writer and director and founding member of Women in Film and Television Atlantic.     <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Martine Blue • Harmony Wagner • Koumbie • Stephanie Clattenburg • Gia Milani Five in Focus is such an important initiative, putting undiscovered directing talent front and centre before the industry and providing them access to the best, to help them move forward. SEE BIGGER

2018-2020 STRATEGIC PLAN

In 2017-2018, Telefilm developed and released its new strategic plan, SEE BIGGER, a forward-looking plan that prioritizes the promotion of Canada's audiovisual content and talent to increase their discoverability, their notoriety and their export. This vision continues the course set by Telefilm in its previous strategic visions as it dared to change, undertook a deep organizational shift, reoriented itself to focus on the industry, and revitalized its overall structure.

The directions put forward in the 2018-2020 strategic plan are the outcome of a consultative process, an environmental scan, and a process of reflection aligned with the industry's needs. They are based on tangible achievements and strong leadership and on an in-depth knowledge of the national and international landscape. They ensure continuity with previous action plans and build on key achievements.

2018-2020 STRATEGIC PLAN – NEW DIRECTIONS

Telefilm has defined four areas of action to SEE BIGGER:

INNOVATE

Foster innovation. Encourage and stimulate innovation in the matter of content, business models and management, specifically to:

- develop Canadian creative talent and encourage innovation
- improve discoverability of and access to Canadian content on all platforms
- diversify funding sources and revenues to finance niche or distinct content

STRENGTHEN

Strengthen the position of Canadian talent on the international market. Telefilm will introduce new conditions to strengthen the competitiveness of the industry by fostering an entrepreneurial approach. More precisely, Telefilm will:

- provide stable and predictable funding
- encourage financial risk-taking, the emergence of new partnerships, and the development of innovative business models
- offer more flexible, company-based funding support

EXPORT

Stimulate export of Canadian content. Telefilm will strengthen the industry's export potential by leveraging Canada's reputation as a coproduction partner of choice and by increasing the visibility of our productions at international festivals and markets. Measures will aim to:

- encourage coproduction
- promote the Canadian brand and talent
- develop a concerted approach for marketing and promotion at international markets with partners

EXCEL

Continue to improve the organization's overall performance. Telefilm will continue to offer added-value and efficiency to its stakeholders and outperform in a rapidly changing environment. Specific goals will aim to:

- maintain management expense ratios at their lowest level and the customer satisfaction rate at its highest level while improving the organization's overall performance
- develop new key performance indicators and update existing indicators as required
- examine possible solutions to better serve clients

To consult Telefilm's complete 2018-2020 Strategic Plan, See Bigger, click here.

GOING FORWARD

Telefilm's research department has been changed from a distinct team and integrated into several sectors within the organization. This approach will allow management to benefit from research insights as they formulate, adapt and implement strategies; while allowing for more timely research based on organizational needs.

Telefilm will continue to conduct and communicate research throughout 2018-2019. Research will focus on the areas of audience behaviour, best marketing and exporting practices, the state of the industry, as well as developing emerging talent and supporting industry innovation. Through industry events, workshops and online tools, findings will be communicated to the industry.

ADMINISTRATOR

ORGANIZATIONAL EXCELLENCE

PERFORMING IN A CHANGING ENVIRONMENT

MEASURING TO IMPROVE
SERVICE DELIVERY TO THE INDUSTRY

Telefilm strives for organizational excellence and implements performance indicators that measure the delivery and achievement of its objectives. The different measures are adapted to the realities and responsibilities of the organization's various sectors, with one goal in mind: to be an excellent administrator.

ACHIEVEMENTS

Client satisfaction is an important aspect of Telefilm's operations, which is why the Corporation evaluates the percentage of satisfied clients using an indicator based on data obtained in an annual survey.

- The 2017-2018 survey covered four distinct programs: Development, Production, Marketing and Promotion.
- The survey was sent to 500 clients through the Dialogue platform, and achieved a response rate of 34%.
- The survey comprised a dozen varied questions that evaluated satisfaction with the programs, the quality of services offered by employees and the level of satisfaction with the new Dialogue platform.
- The results of these surveys showed a satisfaction rate of 85%, exceeding the target of 80% set by the organization.

Examples of client survey comments

Employees	I find the staff very responsive and extremely caring.
	I feel that Telefilm is responsive, available, prompt and straightforward.
Dialogue	Dialogue is a vast improvement from the old system. I find it to be one of the most user-friendly portals that I need to deal with.
	I had the privilege of being the first one to use the program and despite the glitches that needed attention, it was a very positive experience.
	Dialogue is not that easy to use, but once you get used to it, you realize it is effective enough to track the progress of your file.

During the 2018-2019 fiscal year, Telefilm will convert previous projects to Dialogue and dismantle the legacy eTelefilm system. These operations will have a positive impact on clients and employees, who must currently use technologies associated with two systems. This is an important and necessary change to finalize the transition to the new Dialogue platform. Accordingly, the Corporation is implementing various communication, technological and client service measures to mitigate the adverse effects inherent in the conversion of information data.

Performance indicators

Telefilm seeks to be an effective cultural program administrator. In line with client satisfaction levels, Telefilm also monitors other performance indicators that allow it to assess its ability to meet expectations. The table below provides an overview of these measures.

INDICATOR ¹⁵		TARGET	2017-2018	2016-2017	2015-2016
Operational	Response time for production financing (budget ≥ $2.5M)	Not determined (in no. of weeks)	16.8	13.2	8.2
	Response time for coproduction recommendations	Weeks ≤ 8	■ 100%	■ 96%	■ 91%
	Project payments	Days ≤ 10	■ 96%	■ 98%	■ 98%
	Supplier payments	Days ≤ 20	■ 78%	■ 78%	■ 78%
	Compliance with contract award guidelines (procurement)	Not determined	88%	n.a.	n.a.
HR	Employee retention	92 ≤ % ≤ 94	■ 90%	■ 93%	■ 97%
	Recruitment time	28 ≤ days ≤ 51	■ 45 days	■ 40 days	■ 30 days
	Investment in training	Not determined	2.6%	n.a.	n.a.
	Number of training hours per employee (external training)	Not determined	28.9	n.a.	n.a.
IT	Critical systems availability	Hours ≥ 97.5%	■ 99%	■ 98.2%	■ 99.2%
	Critical systems incident-free	Days ≥ 90%	■ 92%	■ 91%	■ 86%

The indicator for the response time for production financing shows a significant rise:

- This increase is related to Telefilm's lack of available financing, which means that the Corporation must defer its funding decisions over time.
- In addition, international coproduction projects face increasing difficulties in finalizing their funding needs, which also delays Telefilm's decisions.

Telefilm aims for continuous improvement, transparency and accountability in performance measurement.

Three new indicators are presented, the targets of which remain to be determined:

- Compliance with contract award guidelines (procurement)
- Investment in training
- Number of training hours per employee

Implementation of the new Dialogue platform entailed a review of our methods, practices and measures. This exercise made it possible to redefine the methodology used to calculate the response time for the production funding process:

- Telefilm now uses a full-time per-process measure that includes time used by Telefilm and time used by clients.
- This more comprehensive performance measure enables Telefilm to better focus its improvement efforts.
- This new way of measuring performance must be reflected in the client services charter, which needs to be updated during the 2018-2019 fiscal year.

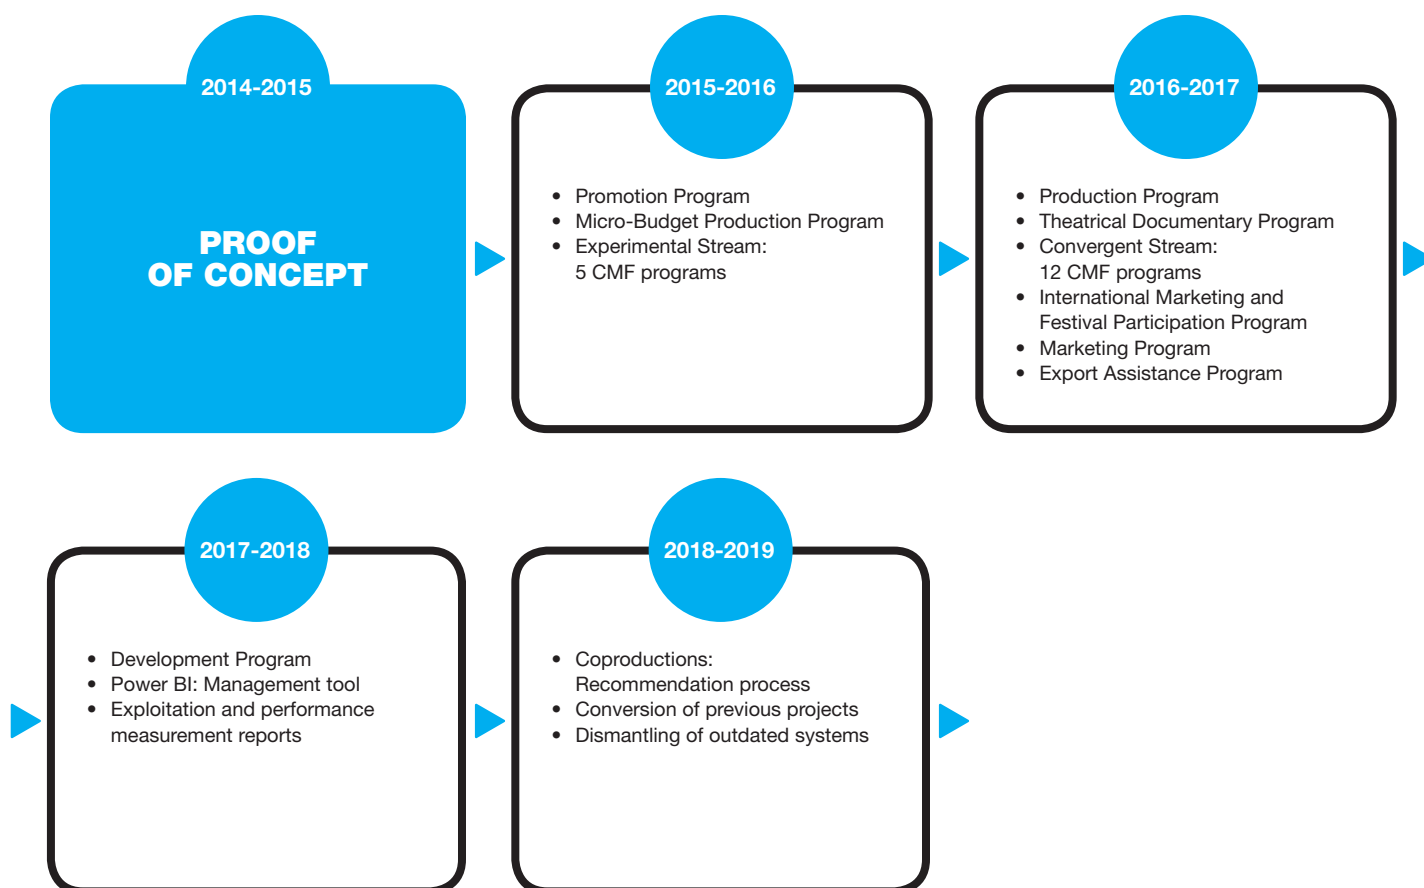

15. Certain historical data have been restated to comply with the presentation adopted in 2017-2018.

Dialogue

TECHNOLOGY AT THE SERVICE OF OUR CLIENTS

The new service platform for managing all our funding programs is a modern and easy-to-use system. In particular, it enables the organization to create value for its clients by being focused on their business needs and by being an efficient administrator. Dialogue is used by clients primarily for submitting project funding applications, as well as for processes related to funding decisions, the establishment of contracts and drawdowns provided for in agreements. Moreover, for the purposes of contractual remittances, Dialogue allows for the transmission of revenues from the commercial exploitation of content.

Dialogue is a major project – a catalyst for the organization’s digital transformation – involving all sectors of the organization and managed by the information technology sector. Based on a proof of concept exercise conducted in 2014-2015, this shared project between Telefilm and CMF was subsequently defined in fiscal 2015-2016 with a budget of $5.6 million, with CMF contributions amounting to approximately 44% of the project. Deployment of Dialogue is expected to be completed by the end of the 2018-2019 fiscal year, with a slight cost overrun of around 4%. Having the two organisations running on the same platform enables cost savings related to the development of processes common to both Telefilm and CMF funding programs. The following illustration shows the roll-out of Telefilm and CMF funding programs in Dialogue:

The Corporation has adopted a platform based on several emerging technologies and identified areas for improvement in order to derive maximum benefit from the choice of technology, as illustrated below:

OPTIMIZE	INTEGRATE	MEASURE
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Streamline and standardize funding program processes Review information needs Reduce information assets Reduce the number of technologies to maintain 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Use the platform as a communication source with clients Coordinate the contribution of clients and employees by business process Automate tasks without added value Interact on multiple platforms 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Access information in real time Improve decision-making, process and time management through an interactive data-visualization tool Reduce process and report development time

Objectives status
(in %)

The Corporation has set four objectives:

- 1 Faster time to market (ability to introduce new needs and changes within a reasonable time frame): The low-code platform accelerates the development and updating of, and improvements to, funding-program processes.
- 2 Better usability (simplicity, intuitiveness and efficiency): A collaborative and transparent platform used by both clients and employees, that is accessible from any mobile device and available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Client satisfaction levels were measured at 76%, a solid baseline year result. One notable benefit is the electronic contract signing capabilities introduced for certain programs, which makes it possible to validate signatories, confirm that contracts have not been modified in an entirely paperless process.
- 3 Increased security: Leverages cloud-computing advantages such as software updates and backup and recovery solutions. The platform provides security assurance, availability, processing integrity, confidentiality and privacy meeting the highest industry standards.
- 4 Cost efficiency (development and maintenance of business functions): The cloud-based platform significantly reduces the number of technologies and enables convergence to modern, easy-to-use applications. These features save development and maintenance costs.

IMPROVING ADMINISTRATION TO BETTER SERVE THE INDUSTRY

Through its Creative Canada Policy Framework document, the Department of Canadian Heritage mandated Telefilm and the Canadian Audio-Visual Certification Office (CAVCO) to modernize the delivery of services to the industry with respect to the recommendation and certification processes for audiovisual coproductions governed by international treaties, administered respectively by Telefilm and CAVCO.

Canadian Heritage reaffirms its confidence in the institutions in its portfolio and demonstrates its leadership by setting certain objectives:

- Streamline the application process for producers applying to both organizations
- Streamline administration and reduce formalities
- Take action to reduce waiting times for Canadian producers

The project was initiated during the fiscal year and is at the work-plan stage (project definition, identification and planning). Both organizations aim to obtain tangible benefits such as:

- an improved user experience
- an increase in client satisfaction
- a reduction in service times
- a single entry of information and standardized documentation
- information sharing between the organizations
- optimization of the respective processes

The 2018-2019 fiscal year will be key for process modernization. Both institutions firmly believe in the success of the project for the benefit of all stakeholders.

OUR DRIVING FORCE – OUR EMPLOYEES

The Corporation has initiated changes in its human resources management by optimizing the positioning of its human resources sector through a new HR identity.

Telefilm employees are and remain one of our main driving forces; they are educated, experienced, diverse and willingly take part in the organization's evolution. Against a backdrop of promoting, accountability, recognition, retention and understanding of organizational strategy and productivity that Telefilm considered it important to measure employee engagement.

A human resources approach that fosters employee satisfaction:

RECOGNITION

The Corporation acknowledges the importance of recognition, whether group or individual, formal or informal in nature. Valuing employees is important to ensuring their commitment. Here are a few examples:

- Celebration of years of service: The Corporation recognizes significant milestones in employees' careers and holds annual ceremonies in its offices to celebrate years of service and formally recognize employees.
- Creation of Spencer Awards¹⁶: For the first time, the Corporation recognized the contribution of the most deserving employees by honouring them in three distinct categories: Innovation/Creativity, Collaboration and Excellence.
- National Public Service Week (NPSW): The Corporation recognized employees for their public service and contributions. This recognition was expressed through four themes: workplace excellence, Aboriginal diversity, health and zero tolerance.

SATISFACTION MEASURES

The Corporation encourages its employees to foster collaboration, engagement and organizational performance. Measuring employee satisfaction will be the norm at Telefilm. For example, employees were asked to take part in several surveys during the year, at Telefilm's or its business partners' initiative:

- Survey on topics of interest related to human resources
- Survey on the celebration of years of service and the Spencer Awards
- Survey on commuting and modes of transportation to the head office and experience in Telefilm's head office building

Telefilm strives for efficiency in the administration of funding programs under its control. As a performance measure, the organization uses an indicator that measures operating and administrative expenses as a percentage of program spending: the management expense ratio¹⁷.

The increase in the management expense ratio from 5.2% to 5.7% was due to the following:

- ↗ $1.6 million in operating and administrative expenses
- ↘ $19.5 million in CMF funding programs (subject to CMF services agreement)

The Corporation attained a management expense ratio of 5.7%. This result is satisfactory, in line with our financial forecasts and below the established target. The Corporation is a stakeholder in a changing ecosystem, and achieving a ratio comparable to the previous year was not feasible for the 2017-2018 fiscal year and is not expected for 2018-2019.

16. The Spencer Awards were named in honour of Telefilm's founder and first Executive Director, Michael Spencer. 2017-2018 Spencer Award recipients: Innovation/Creativity: Carolyn Pennell; Collaboration: Virginie Wallers, Zoé Shum, Hélène Comstock; Excellence: Andréanne Pronovost.

17. Program expenditures include Telefilm's industry support expenses ($106.3 million) and CMF funding programs ($343.2 million) that are not included in our financial statements.

Moreover, in keeping with sound administration, the Corporation transferred $0.5 million in administrative budget savings to funding programs in fiscal 2017-2018.

The Corporation places great importance on the principles of excellence and continuous improvement and strives to be transparent in the presentation of operational and financial information.

Telefilm is proud to be the 2017 Gold award winner (Crown corporations category) of the CPA's Awards of Excellence in Corporate Reporting with its 2015-2016 annual report, Celebrating 50 Years of Talent.

Office of the Auditor General of Canada

Bureau du vérificateur général
du Canada

Special Examination by the Auditor General of Canada

The Financial Administration Act requires that the Corporation undergo a special examination at least once every 10 years. Telefilm's last special examination was tabled with the Corporation's Board of Directors in June 2010.

To this end, the Office of the Auditor General of Canada will soon carry out a special examination which is a type of performance audit that encompasses all aspects of the Corporation:

- The Auditor General will issue an opinion on whether the systems and practices that were selected for examination are providing the organization with reasonable assurance that its assets are safeguarded and controlled, its resources are managed economically and efficiently, and its operations are carried out effectively.
- The Auditor General's work will start in the fall of 2018 and the report is expected to be tabled by the end of the 2019-2020 fiscal year.

Dialogue

The Dialogue platform development project will wrap up in 2018-2019, after five years of development. The platform will be complemented by value-added functionalities such as Telefilm's international coproduction recommendation process, client default management, corporate score and Success Index calculations, and required functionalities for goods and services procurement.

The 2018-2019 fiscal year is a pivotal period:

- Data conversion: With the conversion of data and implementation of all functionalities, Dialogue will be a one-stop platform for all Telefilm and Canada Media Fund clients and Telefilm employees.
- Roles: The Dialogue project team will have to modify its role so as to ensure the platform's evolution and the optimization of processes and functionalities developed.

Canada Media Fund
Fonds des médias du Canada

The services agreement with the Canada Media Fund was renewed for a year.

Furthermore, the Canada Media Fund and Telefilm have agreed to develop more areas for collaboration in order to better leverage funds, best serve the industry and optimize impact. Areas of focus include innovation, research, industry outreach sessions and promotion of Canadian content and talent.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

The purpose of the financial review is to present information supplemental to the financial statements and to report on the organization's past performance and future prospects. Management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts shown in the financial statements; these elements are disclosed in Note 2 to the financial statements, Significant Accounting Policies. Adoption of new accounting standards, as described in Note 2 to the financial statements, did not result in a significant impact on the results and the financial position of the Corporation.

Certain figures from previous fiscal years have been reclassified to conform to the presentation adopted in 2017-2018. Some figures shown have been rounded. Variances requiring an explanation are based on thresholds set by the Audit and Finance Committee.

HIGHLIGHTS

- At $106.3 million, industry support was at its highest level since 2010-2011
- Administrative budgetary savings of $0.5 million were transferred to funding programs
- $6.1 million in supplemental parliamentary appropriation funding

VARIANCES

①	Production	Current fiscal \nearrow than budget	$7.6 million	Budgetary reallocation of funds from the Talent to Watch and Marketing programs. In addition, a sum of $1.5 million granted by Canadian Heritage to fund international coproductions.
②	Development	Current fiscal \nearrow than prior fiscal	$0.8 million	Toward the achievement of the gender-parity goal, additional targeted group added to provide access of supplementary funding for screenplays written and produced by women.
③	Talent to Watch	Current fiscal \searrow than budget	$2.0 million	Funding increase for this program delayed to fiscal 2018-2019.
④	Theatrical documentary	Current fiscal \searrow than budget	$0.3 million	Some project contracts were transferred to the next fiscal year.
		Current fiscal \nearrow than prior fiscal	$1.6 million	The delayed opening of the program on the new Dialogue platform caused low demand levels in the previous fiscal year.
⑤	Eurimages	Current fiscal \nearrow than prior fiscal	$0.3 million	Last year marked Canada's first year as a member of Eurimages. The contribution for fiscal 2017-2018 covers a full year, whereas the contribution in 2016-2017 was pro-rated.
⑥	Innovation – Production	Current fiscal \searrow than budget	$0.6 million	Telefilm is reviewing how to better communicate expectations for and deploy its Innovation Program in order to trigger the launch of truly innovative projects.
		Current fiscal \nearrow than prior fiscal	$0.2 million

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

7	Marketing	Current fiscal \searrow than budget	$3.9 million	Some films were expected to be successful upon release and thus did not require financial support from Telefilm. Also, there was an important decline in the number of films financed through the Marketing program (72 in 2017-2018 compared to 87 in fiscal 2016-2017).
		Current fiscal \searrow than prior fiscal	$3.1 million
8	Promotion – International activities	Current fiscal \nearrow than budget	$1.1 million	An amount of $1 million was added following a transfer from the Department of Canadian Heritage, making it possible for Canada to be present at new festivals, notably in India and China. The scope of other events was expanded, such as Canada's presence at the European Film Market in Berlin, where Canada was Country of Honour, the deployment of Canada Now in the United Kingdom, USA and Mexico and the holding of Eye on TIFF screenings in Paris and London.
		Current fiscal \nearrow than prior fiscal	$2.2 million
9	International marketing	Current fiscal \searrow than budget	$0.4 million	Spending is difficult to predict, given that it depends on the selection of Canadian films at international festivals. During the fiscal year, fewer Canadian films were selected at major festivals.
10	Innovation – Promotion	Current fiscal \searrow than budget	$0.8 million	Telefilm is reviewing how to better communicate expectations for and deploy its Innovation Program in order to trigger the launch of truly innovative projects.
		Current fiscal \searrow than prior fiscal	$0.4 million
11	Export assistance	Current fiscal \searrow than budget	$0.7 million	The program is now in its second year and demand for funding has yet to meet expectations. Additional promotional efforts are needed to raise awareness of the program among targeted groups.

Outlook

- For 2018-2019, the Talent to Watch Program will see a significant rise in its budget, with an increase of $2.3M.
- The Theatrical Exhibition Program will be launched in 2018-2019. This program is intended to support the programming of Canadian films in theatres across Canada and to foster public access to these works.

OPERATING AND ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES

Operating and administrative expenses are slightly up (7%) compared to the last fiscal year, mainly due to salaries and employee benefits, which comprise about 70% of these expenses.

	25,954	25,723	24,142	231	1	1,581	7

VARIANCES

①	Amortization	Current fiscal \nearrow than prior fiscal	$0.3 million	Amortization linked to capitalization during the fiscal year of $3.3 million in assets, mostly related to the Dialogue platform.
②	Travel	Current fiscal \nearrow than budget	$0.1 million	Travel within Canada and abroad that had not been fully budgeted, such as trips related to Eurimages working sessions.
③	Office expenses	Current fiscal \nearrow than budget	$0.1 million	Unbudgeted purchase of computers, computer equipment and leasing costs for facilities used for various consultations (diversity, parity and harassment).
④	Publications	Current fiscal \searrow than budget	$0.1 million	Expected administrative budgetary savings, tied to a number of promotional activities that were accounted for as assistance expenses for promotion of Canadian talent.

Each year, budgetary savings allow us to reinvest funds in the audiovisual industry. In 2017-2018, $0.5 million¹⁸ of administrative budgetary savings were transferred to funding programs.

18. The budget surplus is calculated using a modified cash basis accounting method.

GOVERNMENT FUNDING AND REVENUES

Total revenues were higher than budgeted and higher than last year's revenues. The Corporation's main source of funding is the parliamentary appropriation, which accounts for 81% of total revenues.

VARIANCES

①	Investment revenues and recoveries	Current fiscal > than prior fiscal	$3.3 million	Last year's revenues were exceptionally high, bolstered by a number of major international coproductions, among them Room and Brooklyn .
②	Management fees from the CMF	Current fiscal > than prior fiscal	$1.6 million	Decrease in the amount invoiced for the Dialogue platform.
③	Talent Fund	Current fiscal > than budget	$0.3 million	Only amounts provided for in the contribution agreements are included in the budget, given that donations are difficult to assess.

- Recurring increase by $5 million, as announced in the 2016 federal budget.
- Non-recurring transfer of $2.5 million from the Department of Canadian Heritage for initiatives aimed at making Canada shine on the international stage.

Parliamentary appropriation funding

The following chart shows the breakdown of our funding sources:

Reconciliation of cost of operations and parliamentary appropriation

The Corporation receives most of its funding through an annual parliamentary appropriation. Items recognized in the Statement of Operations and the Statement of Financial Position may have been funded through a parliamentary appropriation approved in either a previous or the current fiscal year. Some of the items in the reconciliation calculation cannot be linked directly to the financial statements.

② Accounts receivable	↘ $0.5 million	Collection of major accounts receivable from clients since March 31, 2017.
③ Receivable from the CMF	↘ $0.3 million	Higher receivable at March 31, 2017 for the Dialogue platform.
④ Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	↘ $0.3 million	Last fiscal, a larger amount of deferred revenues was recorded for non-recurring events held during the first quarter.
⑤ Financial assistance program obligations	↗ $10.1 million	Increase in contractual commitments for the fiscal year, mainly in the last quarter, strongly correlated with overall increase in amount of assistance expenses.
⑥ Tangible capital assets	↗ $1.3 million	Capitalization of $2.1 million, mostly in development costs for the Dialogue platform, decreased by $0.7 million in amortization.
⑦ Prepaid expenses	↘ $0.7 million	Mostly license fees paid during fiscal 2018-2019 rather than in March 2018.

CASH FLOW

The Corporation uses the indirect method to report its cash flow, which is managed through the Receiver General of Canada and through a separate bank account for the Talent Fund.

RISK MANAGEMENT

Telefilm uses an integrated risk management approach that ensures risks are considered at all stages of the business cycle—from the strategic planning process to ongoing business operations—and throughout all levels of the organization. Focus is placed on identifying and mitigating risks that could impede the delivery of our strategic plan priorities.

The Risk Management Committee is responsible for identifying and evaluating risks and ensuring adequate mitigation measures are in place. The committee is chaired by the Executive Director and composed of all members of the Management Committee. Risks are reviewed biannually, and management takes into account both internal and external factors and their potential impact. The Executive Director reports on risk assessment to the Audit and Finance Committee.

Telefilm uses the following matrix to disclose the expected residual risks. The matrix provides a clear vision of the stakes, their evolution and the importance of the mitigating measures in alleviating negative impacts. The Risk Management Committee is currently monitoring more than 20 risks. Telefilm has reviewed the risks associated with the four major orientations—Innovate, Strengthen, Export, Excel—set out in its new strategic plan. These risks include:

Telefilm's risk identification methodology provides a comprehensive understanding of all risks and of their various components, making it possible to develop specific action plans aimed at reducing residual risk. Risk assessment takes into account the following:

- Inherent risk
- Risk components
- Risk scenarios, implications and impacts
- Mitigation measures and attenuation factors
- Residual risk trend
- Risk velocity

The following table highlights a few risks monitored during this fiscal year.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

In addition to a strong passion for Canadian film, television and media content, Telefilm's employees contribute to various causes that have a positive and meaningful impact on their communities, organizing efforts in each of the four offices, from coast to coast. These efforts take many forms each year, with several agencies and organizations counting on our ongoing support. For this fiscal year, overall donations amounted to more than $10,000 for the following initiatives:

United Way
Centraide

United Way

For many years, Telefilm employees have participated in the Government of Canada's Workplace Charitable campaign and, over time, one thing has remained constant — generosity. During the past 10 years, employees have raised more than $235,000 in donations for the United Way (Centraide), Health Partners (Partenaires Santé) and other organizations across the country. To encourage contributions, dedicated employee committees have used creative strategies, from dares to bake sales.

Montreal Diet Dispensary

Fiscal 2017-2018 marked the 15th year in which Montréal employees organized La Grande Bouffe Telefilm, a day-long sale of meals and treats prepared and donated by Telefilm employees in conjunction with a silent auction held during the event, which benefits the Montreal Diet Dispensary. The Dispensary's mission is to offer nutritional and social support to pregnant women in need and to assist them to deliver and raise healthy children. This cause is dear to the hearts of Telefilm employees, who every year roll up their sleeves a little higher to help newborns get a good start in life.

Second Harvest Hero

Employees located in our Toronto office have been involved with the Second Harvest Hero Workplace Fundraiser for the past 14 years, contributing food and making financial donations. The Second Harvest initiative provides fresh, healthy food that would otherwise go to waste, to people in need all across Toronto. The 2017 campaign had over 150 companies, schools and community groups in the Greater Toronto Area raising funds for the food rescue program.

TALENT FUND

FONDS DES TALENTS

Telefilm Canada created the Talent Fund in 2012 to help diversify funding sources for the Canadian audiovisual industry and to ensure the industry's growth and sustainability. The Fund allows corporations as well as individuals to support the industry through donations and partnerships.

VISION

The Talent Fund ensures that emerging Canadian talent is increasingly visible across the globe. Additionally, it offers Canadian filmmakers access to stable, reliable and permanent sources of funding.

OBJECTIVE

The goal of the Talent Fund is to raise $25 million over five years for the production and promotion of Canadian works by promising, emerging talent as well as by renowned, established filmmakers.

MISSION

The Talent Fund primarily supports the discovery and career progression of emerging Canadian talent in the audiovisual industry.

RECOGNITION FOR THE TALENT FUND

Since its launch, the Talent Fund has received strong support from notable Canadian organizations and corporations, including its principal partners Bell Media and Corus Entertainment, the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and other foundations and individual donors.

MORE THAN $15 MILLION
 FOR THE CANADIAN PRODUCTION INDUSTRY!

THESE FUNDS SUPPORTED THE PRODUCTION AND PROMOTION OF
75 CANADIAN TITLES
 WHICH HAVE WON OVER 100 AWARDS AROUND THE WORLD.

HIGHLIGHTS

In fiscal 2017-2018, The Talent Fund continued to seek new ways to make Canadian talent shine and leverage additional support. Most notably:

- $2.5 million was raised thanks to our principal partners, Bell Media and Corus Entertainment, to corporate donations and to generous individual donors.
- Thanks to the Talent Fund, Telefilm has committed to more than doubling the level of assistance it provides to emerging filmmakers by funding 50 projects annually through the Talent to Watch Program.
- The Talent Fund supported initiatives, both at home and abroad, focusing on increasing discoverability and export opportunities for Canadian talent as part of the Canada 150 celebrations.
- Talent to Watch projects shone on the national and international scenes, including Black Cop, by Cory Bowles which picked up a Canadian Screen Award, and Les faux tatouages, by Pascal Plante, which won accolades at the Berlinale, at Slamdance and at the Festival du nouveau cinéma de Montréal.
- The Talent Fund website underwent a significant redesign in order to better communicate the Fund's role, drive contributions and best represent Canada's promising emerging talent.

HOW THE FUND SUPPORTS TALENT

The Fund promotes the discovery and progression of talent in three ways:

FUNDING FOR A FIRST FEATURE FILM

The Talent Fund provides support to Telefilm's Talent to Watch Program (formerly the Micro-Budget Production Program), an innovative program designed to enable emerging talent to produce and distribute a first and second feature. The major goals of the program, which now receives substantial funding from the Talent Fund, are to:

- help emerging talent kick-start their careers;
- encourage innovation and emphasize the use of digital platforms and online audience engagement tools;
- reach creators from all regions of Canada and encourage participation from diverse groups, including Indigenous Canadian filmmakers, members of official language minority communities (OLMC) and minority groups;
- foster mentorship from previous recipients to new cohorts with the aim of increasing success; and
- establish an automatic stream for successful directors of short films and an automatic second feature financing stream for filmmakers who have produced internationally recognized first features.

RECOGNITION FOR PROJECTS OF MERIT

Feature film projects of merit that demonstrate, in an exemplary way, Telefilm's fundamental objective to SEE BIGGER are selected from across the country. This support allows Telefilm to offer recognition to the industry, promoting the excellence of Canadian content directly to consumers.

SUPPORT FOR THE PROMOTION OF CANADIAN CONTENT AND TALENT

The Talent Fund promotes Canadian content and talent by encouraging the use of innovative marketing strategies and multiplatform distribution strategies and by better showcasing emerging talent at home and on the international stage. The Fund's support helps to establish new initiatives that focus on creating awareness for Canadian talent and maximizing the impact of existing promotional activities. Furthermore, Telefilm's social media platforms serve to reinforce these efforts. In this vein, in 2017-2018 the Fund:

- promoted Canadian talent at events and initiatives held both in Canada and on the international scene, which also serve to encourage fundraising efforts. Events and initiatives that received support included:
 - a reception at the Consulate General of Canada in Los Angeles hosted by Consul General James Villeneuve, gathering Canadians nominated at the 2018 Academy Awards, including talents involved with the films The Breadwinner, The Shape of Water, Blade Runner 2049 and Arrival, in addition to Talent Fund donors and emerging talent;
 - two social media promotional activities sponsored by the Talent Fund, one featuring Canadian Screen Award finalists and the second Canadian talent featured at the Berlin International Film Festival, which drew 1 million and 200,000 views respectively;
 - the Via Rail On Board Entertainment initiative—created by Via Rail and partners Les films Séville, Telefilm and the Talent Fund—during which Canadian films were viewed 150,000 times;
 - the Sprint Pré-Gala discoverability initiative for films in nomination at the Gala Québec Cinéma, where films were viewed nearly 50,000 times; and
 - the Gala Prends ça court, which received support for the first time and awarded 46 prizes to homegrown talent.
- continued to provide Talent to Watch Program recipients with additional funding to hire an external digital and social media expert to support the marketing of each project;
- made a selection of films funded through the Talent to Watch Program available on Telefilm's RENDEZ-VOUS CANADA iTunes boutique; and
- supported diverse voices, with one project made by filmmakers from official-language minority communities and three projects made by Indigenous filmmakers.

To support the promotion of Canadian content and talent, the Talent Fund celebrates Canadian films at high-profile international events. A notable event this year was the evening hosted by philanthropists Paul and Carol Hill during the Palm Springs International Film Festival.

TALENT FUND ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Fund is led by an Advisory Committee of business and community leaders from across the country and chaired by Hartley T. Richardson. TALENT FUND FINANCIAL REVIEW¹⁹

REVENUES

During the 2017-2018 fiscal year, the Talent Fund recorded $2,470,000 in revenues:

- $1,348,000 from Bell Media and $808,000 from Corus Entertainment, as per the long-term tangible benefit funding agreements signed with both entities;
- $314,000 in contributions from 71 private donors.

INVESTMENTS

The Talent Fund allocated $2,537,000 of financing for the production and promotion of projects, as follows:

- In 2017-2018, the Talent Fund financed 85% of the Talent to Watch Program;
- During fiscal 2017-2018, the Fund placed great emphasis on discoverability activities.

19. All financial figures are rounded. For complete analysis, see Note 3 to the financial statements.

Finally, to cover previously committed funding obligations, the Talent Fund maintained a balance of close to $1,465,000, assigned as follows:

EXPENSES

During fiscal 2017-2018, Telefilm funded $252,000 for the benefit of the Talent Fund, covering canvassing expenses and fundraising activities; as such, every dollar contributed to the Talent Fund directly benefited the Canadian film industry.

The Talent to Watch Program offers our partners an ideal opportunity to take part in an amazing journey and share a passion we care deeply about: fostering the discovery of emerging Canadian talents and their career progression.

– Hartley T. Richardson, Chair of the Talent Fund

This is a great opportunity to highlight micro-budget productions, a stream that, we believe, will play an increasingly important role in the feature film category, especially in the comedy genre.

– Eli Batalion, writer-director and producer, Appiness (Quebec).

Having access to funding through Telefilm's Talent Fund is priceless. But the most important thing is having the chance to support one another, for filmmakers and creators to share ideas in a personal way.

– Patti Larsen, director and co-writer, The Lovely Witches Club (Prince Edward Island)

What an inspiring and informative experience! It's amazing that we were able to bring our art to life and receive so much support throughout the process. We're very fortunate to have Telefilm by our side! Thank you so much!

– Corey Loranger, producer, Abigaëlle et le date coaching (Alberta)

*Support from the Talent Fund allowed us to make Les faux tatouages the way we wanted to make it, without having to compromise, with total artistic freedom—it was the ideal creative environment to complete a debut project that fully matched our ambition.*

– Pascal Plante, writer-director, Les faux tatouages (Québec)

The Talent Fund enabled our team to create something—with no creative limitations. The fact our work is now on the world market is something we couldn't have imagined possible a few years ago.

– Cory Bowles, director, Black Cop (Nova Scotia)

GOVERNANCE

Telefilm is a Crown corporation subject to the Telefilm Canada Act as well as to certain provisions of the Financial Administration Act (FAA). To ensure that the Corporation operates with a certain measure of independence, Parliament has chosen to exempt Telefilm from the application of most articles found in Part X of the FAA. In compliance with the FAA, Telefilm's Chair submits to the Minister of Canadian Heritage an annual report on the activities and results of the fiscal year, the Corporation's financial statements, as well as the related audit report from the Office of the Auditor General of Canada. The annual report is reviewed and approved by the members of Telefilm's Board of Directors.

MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Board of Directors supervises the management of Telefilm's activities and business with the objective of enabling the organization to fulfill its mandate in an optimal manner. It comprises six members, appointed by the Governor in Council, as well as the Government Film Commissioner, who is appointed as per the provisions of the National Film Act. The Governor in Council designates one of the members of the Corporation to serve as chairperson of the Corporation during pleasure. In accordance with the Telefilm Canada Act, Board members must meet at least six times during the year.

The Board fulfills its management role and has defined its fiduciary responsibilities through a mandate that covers, among other things:

- corporate strategy;
- human resources and performance evaluation;
- internal controls and financial matters;
- governance and communications; and
- environment, security and protection.

The Board follows exemplary governance practices to ensure that its meetings are planned, structured and effective. The Board ensures that management systems and practices in effect meet the Board's needs and provide it with the necessary confidence regarding the integrity of information generated. The Executive Director attends all Board meetings, and certain managers are invited to speak on specific matters that require in-depth consideration. Generally, meetings are held at the head office in Montréal. In most cases, a meeting is followed by an in-camera session so that members may discuss issues without the presence of senior management.

Fiscal 2017-2018 was particularly busy, and the Board was called on to deliberate on a number of topics of major importance to the organization. These included, among others:

- discussions with the Minister of Canadian Heritage on Telefilm's role within the audiovisual industry;
- the positioning of the Corporation with regard to the "#Metoo" movement, which resulted in the Corporation playing a leadership role in the development of guidelines that were endorsed by several industry partners;
- discussions with the Privy Council Office on the appointment of Members and of Telefilm Canada's Executive Director; and
- the adoption of a new strategic plan for 2018-2020.

INDEPENDENCE OF THE BOARD

Section 5 of the Telefilm Canada Act ensures that all members remain independent by providing that no person who has any pecuniary interest in the audiovisual industry, directly or indirectly and individually or as a shareholder, partner or otherwise, is eligible to be appointed or to hold office as a member. Coupled with this guarantee of independence is the members' obligation, under the Corporation's By-Law 1, to disclose to the Chair any private interest which might otherwise place them in a situation of conflict of interest with their official duties and to abstain from voting on any resolution that would place them in a conflict of interest situation. All members are also required to submit an annual declaration of interest. Furthermore, members are subject to the provisions of the Conflict of Interest Act. Finally, all members are independent of the Management Committee.

CHANGES TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Board appointments and renewals are made by the Governor in Council. Except for the Government Film Commissioner, all members are part-time public office-holders. This year marked the end of Michel Roy's term as the Corporation's Chair, his term ending on October 11, 2017. The position of Chair has been vacant since that date. G. Grant Machum became Acting Chair of the Board on October 12, 2017, as per the terms of the Telefilm Canada Act.

THE BOARD AND ITS COMMITTEES

The Board has established three committees to help it fulfill its responsibilities. Each committee has its own charter and is composed of at least three members, whose membership is reviewed annually. The committees serve to address issues that require specific expertise. Committees make recommendations to the Board on matters that fall within their areas of competence. Committees regularly invite senior managers to attend meetings, a practice that fosters alignment with the Corporation's objectives. Board members who do not sit on a given committee are not required to attend committee meetings.

The committee assists members of the Board by addressing issues of a financial nature as well as those relating to risk management.

The committee's responsibilities are set forth in a charter and include, among other things:

- the production of financial information;
- the monitoring of risk management and management of internal controls;
- the monitoring of auditors; and
- the committee's performance.

Representatives of the Office of the Auditor General of Canada; internal auditors; the Executive Director; the Director, Administration and Corporate Services; and the Controller are invited to all meetings. Managers present information and the various issues are discussed.

During the fiscal year, the committee reviewed the organization's budgets and financial statements, as it does each year. The committee also engaged with internal auditors with respect to the results of various audits, including those bearing on operational security and the payroll process. Finally, during the fiscal year, the committee recommended the adoption of a new signing charter as well as the implementation of a declaration form for related-party transactions in compliance with the PS 2200 accounting standard.

24. Michel Roy stopped sitting on the Audit and Finance Committee when his term with the Board ended, on October 11, 2017

25. G. Grant Machum was appointed to the Audit and Finance Committee on October 5, 2017.

This committee assists the Board mainly on issues relating to human resources management.

The committee's responsibilities are set forth in a charter and include, among other things:

- general practices related to human resources;
- the composition and evaluation of the Board, and evaluation of the Executive Director;
- governance issues; and
- the committee's performance.

In addition, the committee reviews, as needed, topics of interest such as performance evaluation, the Compensation Policy and the Policy on Incentive Programs.

The committee had a very busy year, given that it was tasked with, among other things, engaging the services of a recruitment firm in connection with the hiring of the Corporation's Executive Director. The committee also discussed the implementation of the recruitment process with the Privy Council Office and also took part in selection interviews. In addition, the committee continued its discussions on the approach the Corporation needs to develop on such issues as diversity and the "#Metoo" movement. Finally, the Committee began work on a corporate governance review.

- the committee's performance.

During the fiscal year, the committee followed up with senior management on the implementation of the 2016-2018 strategic plan. The Committee also followed up on delivery of events in connection with Telefilm Canada's 50th anniversary. Finally, the committee was in a position to recommend the adoption of the 2018-2020 strategic plan to the Board.

26. Ram Raju was appointed to the Nominating, Evaluation and Governance Committee on October 5, 2017.

27. Michel Roy stopped sitting on the Strategic Planning and Communications Committee when his term with the Board ended, on October 11, 2017.

28. Corey Anne Bloom was appointed to the Strategic Planning and Communications Committee on October 5, 2017.

BOARD MEETINGS: COMPENSATION AND ATTENDANCE

Board members²⁹ are remunerated for their attendance at meetings and for other activities inherent to their duties. Compensation is aligned with guidelines governing remuneration of part-time public office-holders appointed to Crown corporations by the Governor in Council. The Corporation pays a yearly honorarium, determined by the Governor in Council, to the Board Chair. The Corporation also grants all directors (including the Chair) a per-diem allowance for Board and committee meeting preparation and for each day they attend meetings. Amounts are paid as per the following pay scales:

- Chair's annual remuneration: between $7,100 and $8,400;
- Per-diem allowance: between $310 and $375.

The following graph shows expenses incurred by the Board and its committees in relation to, among other things, internal auditing work, the Annual Public Meeting and the holding of meetings.

The following table outlines members' attendance at various committee meetings:

	Board of Directors 6 members 6 meetings	Audit and Finance Committee 3 members 4 meetings	Nominating, Evaluation and Governance Committee 3 members 5 meetings	Strategic Planning and Communications Committee 3 members 4 meetings

29. As an officer within the federal public administration and ex-officio member of the Board of Directors, the Government Film Commissioner is not entitled to compensation.

30. Michel Roy attended meetings of the board and its committees until the end of his term on October 11, 2017.

DECISION-MAKING COMMITTEE

In accordance with the Telefilm Canada Act, the Executive Director, appointed by the Governor in Council, is the Corporation's chief executive officer. In this capacity, the Executive Director is responsible for leading and controlling management of the Corporation.

Fiscal 2017-2018 marked the end of Carole Brabant's term as the Corporation's Executive Director, her mandate ending on March 14, 2018. The position of Executive Director has remained vacant since Ms. Brabant's departure. Jean-Claude Mahé, formerly Director, Public and Governmental Affairs, was appointed Interim Executive Director on March 26, 2018. During the period in which the position of Executive Director remains vacant and is filled on an interim basis, a Decision-Making Committee has been put in place and will serve as a decision-making body for all matters that may be prove especially challenging in connection with the management of Telefilm. The Decision-Making Committee is composed of the Acting Executive Director; the Director, Administration and Corporate Services; the Director, Legal Services and Access to Information; and the Director, Project Financing.

MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE³¹

The Management Committee is the primary instrument for discussion of strategic, planning and organizational matters. This committee addresses all issues pertaining to the Corporation's policies and directions.

The committee's membership consists of the Acting Executive Director and the directors responsible for all the Corporation's activities. The Acting Executive Director chairs the committee. The committee's decisions are taken by unanimous agreement.

35. Carolle Brabant's term as Executive Director of Telefilm Canada ended on March 14, 2018.

36. Cumulative attendance of employees representing the team, on a rotational basis over a three-month period.

AUDITING

The Corporation's financial statements are audited annually by the Office of the Auditor General of Canada. In addition, the FAA requires that the Auditor General conduct a special examination of the Corporation at least once every 10 years, the most recent review having been conducted in 2010. The results of this review are available on the Corporation's website. The FAA also requires that Telefilm conduct internal audits. The Corporation assigns this task to an outside firm, whose reports are submitted to the Audit and Finance Committee. The following audit assignments were carried out during the fiscal year:

- Review of new processes;
- Operational security;
- Signing Charter and risk analysis criteria relating to dossiers; and
- Review of payroll process.

PERFORMANCE EVALUATION

Performance evaluation is a key process that helps identify good performance while fostering a culture of continuous improvement. To this end, the Board members, Executive Director³⁷ and all personnel were subject to an annual assessment.

- Assessment of the Board and its committees is governed by a performance assessment policy specific to the Board. This assessment process looks at, among other things, Board membership, members' knowledge, the Board's responsibilities and its workings. In addition to this evaluation, each Board committee is assessed individually.
- The Executive Director's performance assessment, which is conducted by the Nominating, Evaluation and Governance Committee and then subject to Board approval, is governed by the Privy Council Office's Performance Management Program Guidelines – Chief Executive Officers of Crown Corporations. Evaluation criteria focus on assessing results in various areas of activity including, among others, policies and programs, management, stakeholder relations, leadership and corporate results.
- Performance of the Management Committee and each of its subcommittees is assessed by committee members and by the Executive Director. In the event the Executive Director position is vacant or held on an acting basis, the performance of each subcommittee is assessed by its members.
- Finally, employee performance evaluations are conducted twice a year in accordance with the Corporation's Policy on Performance Evaluation. The assessment process focuses on, among other things, the achievement of set objectives for the fiscal year, expected proficiency levels, expectations pertaining to job responsibilities, and learning goals.

ORIENTATION AND TRAINING

Training is an essential part of maintaining best practices of corporate governance, and it enables Board members to perform their duties in an optimal manner. To this end, Board members are given an opportunity to participate in seminars and courses as well as in training based on the requirements of their duties and an assessment of their needs. The Corporation also expects that employee skills be developed and improved, and achieves this through a professional development training plan whose purpose is to provide employees with the skills needed to achieve the Corporation's strategic plan. See more details in the Administrator section.

37. Given that she acted as Executive Director for most of fiscal 2017-2018, Carolle Brabant was subject to an annual performance review. Conversely, Jean-Claude Mahé, as Acting Executive Director, was not subject to an annual review by the Board given that he was appointed to the position only five days before the end of the fiscal year.

ETHICS AND INTEGRITY

Ethics and integrity are important values for Telefilm Canada, and as such the Corporation endeavours to promote exemplary ethical practices, year after year. Telefilm Canada's Code of Conduct, which encompasses the Treasury Board's Values and Ethics Code for the Public Sector, Telefilm Canada's Code of Values and its Policy on Conflict of Interest and Post-Employment, is binding on all employees. Respecting Telefilm Canada's Code of Conduct is a condition of employment for all employees, regardless of the position they hold. The Code is available to the public at large upon request.

Each year, employees must undergo mandatory training on their obligations pertaining to ethics, information security, transparency, privacy and prevention of conflicts of interest. Following this training, all employees are assessed on their knowledge of the issues to ensure that they fully understand their obligations.

Furthermore, employees are also required to annually sign a statement declaring that they undertake to comply with the Corporation's internal policies and guidelines, notably in matters pertaining to ethical behaviour and conflict of interest. Finally, all persons appointed by Order in Council—the Chair, Board members and the Executive Director—are subject to the Conflict of Interest Act.

FORMAL COMPLAINTS

Telefilm has a formal complaint process for its clients that supplements existing mechanisms included in the Customer Service Charter for Telefilm Canada's Clients. During fiscal 2017-2018, one new formal complaint was filed under this procedure. Furthermore, in accordance with the Public Servants Disclosure Protection Act, Telefilm employees and members of the public may disclose wrongdoing that they think has been committed, or that they believe is about to be committed, by following the process set out on the website of the Office of the Public Sector Integrity Commissioner of Canada. In this respect, no complaints or disclosures of wrongdoing were submitted during the fiscal year.

COMMUNICATION

Liaison with the Government of Canada

The Corporation uses a structure that fosters effective strategic linkage with the Department of Canadian Heritage and other federal and provincial departments and agencies. To this end, the Public and Governmental Affairs sector acts as a special intermediary for all questions related to government policy.

Annual Public Meeting

In compliance with the FAA, the Corporation held its Annual Public Meeting in November 2017, in Toronto, and presented its achievements for the 2016-2017 fiscal year. The public and members of the industry and media were given the opportunity to, among other things, interact with the Acting Chair of the Board, G. Grant Machum, and with the Executive Director at the time of the Meeting, Carolle Brabant. Details of Telefilm's achievements are available on its website, as is the Corporation's complete annual report.

TRANSPARENCY AND ACCESS TO INFORMATION

At Telefilm Canada, we believe that transparency and access to information are pillars of the public's confidence and trust in our institution. Accordingly, we strive to ensure that all employees and consultants working at the Corporation are aware of and understand the importance of the right of access to information and their obligations under the Access to Information Act.

MANAGEMENT REPORT

The financial statements of Telefilm Canada (hereafter the “Corporation”) are the responsibility of management and have been approved by the Board of Directors of the Corporation. These financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards. Significant accounting policies are disclosed in Note 2 to the financial statements. Where appropriate, the financial statements include estimates based on the experience and judgment of management. Management is also responsible for all other information in the Annual Report and for ensuring that this information is consistent with the financial statements.

Management maintains accounting, financial, information and management control systems, together with management practices, designed to provide reasonable assurance that reliable and relevant information is available on a timely basis, that assets are safeguarded and controlled, that resources are managed economically and efficiently in the attainment of corporate objectives, and that operations are carried out effectively. The internal control systems are periodically reviewed by the Corporation’s internal auditors. These systems and practices are also designed to provide reasonable assurance that transactions are in accordance with Part VIII of the Financial Administration Act, chapter F-10 of the Revised Statutes of Canada 1970, as it read immediately before September 1, 1984, as if it had not been repealed and as if the Corporation continued to be named in Schedule C to that Act, with the relevant sections of Part X of the Financial Administration Act, with the Telefilm Canada Act and with the by-laws and policies of the Corporation.

The Board of Directors is responsible for ensuring that management fulfills its responsibilities for financial reporting as stated above. The Board exercises its responsibilities through the Audit and Finance Committee, which consists of directors who are not officers of the Corporation. The Committee reviews the quarterly financial statements, as well as the annual financial statements and related reports and may make recommendations to the Board of Directors with respect to these and/or related matters. In addition, the Committee periodically meets with the Corporation’s internal and external auditors, as well as with management, to review the scope of their audits and to assess their reports.

The external auditor, the Auditor General of Canada, conducts an independent audit of the financial statements, and reports to the Corporation and to the Minister of Canadian Heritage.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Minister of Canadian Heritage

REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of Telefilm Canada, which comprise the statement of financial position as at 31 March 2018, and the statement of operations, statement of changes in net financial assets and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit. I conducted my audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Telefilm Canada as at 31 March 2018, and the results of its operations, changes in its net financial assets, and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards.

REPORT ON OTHER LEGAL AND REGULATORY REQUIREMENTS

As required by the Financial Administration Act, I report that, in my opinion, the accounting principles in Canadian public sector accounting standards have been applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Further, in my opinion, the transactions of Telefilm Canada that have come to my notice during my audit of the financial statements have, in all significant respects, been in accordance with the applicable provisions of Part X of the Financial Administration Act and regulations, the Telefilm Canada Act and the by-laws of Telefilm Canada.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Fiscal year ended March 31, 2018

The amounts shown in the accompanying tables to the financial statements are expressed in thousands of Canadian dollars unless otherwise indicated.

AUTHORITY AND ACTIVITIES

The Corporation was established in 1967 by the Telefilm Canada Act. The mandate of the Corporation is to foster and promote the development of the Canadian audiovisual industry. The Corporation may also act through agreements with the Department of Canadian Heritage for the provision of services or the management of programs relating to the audiovisual or sound recording industries.

The Corporation is a Crown corporation subject inter alia to Part VIII of the Financial Administration Act, chapter F-10 of the Revised Statutes of Canada 1970, as it read immediately before September 1, 1984, as if it had not been repealed and as if the Corporation continued to be named in Schedule C to that Act. The Corporation is also subject to certain provisions of Part X of the Financial Administration Act.

The Corporation is not subject to income tax laws.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

These financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards (CPSAS). The significant accounting policies followed by the Corporation are as follows:

A. Measurement uncertainty

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with CPSAS requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of expenses and revenues during the reporting period. The most significant items for which estimates are used are the allowance for bad debts, the useful life of tangible capital assets, liabilities for employee future benefits and contingencies. Actual results could differ from those estimates and such differences could be material.

B. Assistance expenses

Assistance expenses represent all forms of assistance granted by the Corporation to develop the Canadian audiovisual industry and support Canadian content in Canada and abroad. They are carried out mainly through investments, forgivable advances, grants and contributions. Financial assistance granted is recognized as government transfers. The Corporation recognizes financial assistance in the statement of operations as assistance expenses in the year in which the expense is authorized and the recipient meets the eligibility criteria. The Corporation recognizes the balances it has contractually committed to disburse as financial assistance program obligations.

Investments in productions entitle the Corporation to copyright ownership, and advances are generally carried out by awarding project development, production, and distribution and marketing assistance contracts. Certain advances are convertible into investments in lieu of repayment. When this occurs, the advance is converted into an investment through assistance expenses.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Fiscal year ended March 31, 2018

The amounts shown in the accompanying tables to the financial statements are expressed in thousands of Canadian dollars unless otherwise indicated.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONT.)C. Revenues*i. Investment revenues and recoveries

Investment revenues and recoveries of advances made in production represent a percentage of production revenues stipulated in agreements and contractually payable to the Corporation. Recoveries are also derived from the repayment of other forgivable advances granted whose contractual conditions have been met. These amounts are recorded on an accrual basis while bad debt losses are accounted for through assistance expenses.

ii. Management fees

Management fees represent the reimbursement of costs incurred when administering and delivering Canada Media Fund funding programs. Fees are recorded on an accrual basis.

iii. Contributions to promotional support activities

Contributions to promotional support activities are recorded on an accrual basis.

iv. Interest and other revenues

Interest and other revenues are recorded on an accrual basis.

D. Government funding

The Corporation obtains funding through a parliamentary appropriation. As this funding is free of any stipulation limiting its use, it is recorded as government funding in the statement of operations up to the authorized amount where eligibility criteria have been met.

E. Talent fund

The Talent Fund (the "Fund") was created in March 2012 and its operations are an integral part of the Corporation's activities. The aim of the Fund is to support and promote Canadian works and talent through the Corporation's programs. The Fund's revenues are received from individuals and companies. These revenues are deposited into a separate bank account and recorded under Cash – Talent Fund in the statement of financial position. Revenues may or may not be subject to external restrictions with respect to language, genre and program. Revenues free from external restrictions are recognized in the statement of operations in the fiscal year during which they are received whereas revenues subject to external restrictions are recognized in the statement of operations in the fiscal year during which they are used for the stated purpose. Unused revenues subject to external restrictions are presented as deferred revenues in the statement of financial position. Under the Telefilm Canada Act, investment revenues and recoveries generated by projects funded by the Fund are made available to the Corporation to cover all assistance expenses.

F. Due from Consolidated Revenue Fund

Due from Consolidated Revenue Fund includes the Corporation's aggregate banking transactions, which are processed by the Receiver General for Canada.

G. Cash – Talent Fund

Cash – Talent Fund consists of the cash balance from revenues received. This cash is used to finance projects and activities supported by the Fund.

H. Loan

The Corporation granted a loan to production companies. The loan is recognized at the lower of amortized cost and net recoverable amount, depending on the degree of collectibility and risk of loss. Interest income is recorded when earned, as per the effective interest method.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Fiscal year ended March 31, 2018

The amounts shown in the accompanying tables to the financial statements are expressed in thousands of Canadian dollars unless otherwise indicated.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONT.)

I. Financial instruments

The Corporation's financial instruments are all recorded at cost or amortized cost in the statement of financial position. Financial assets consist of assets that could be used to settle existing liabilities or fund future activities. At every year-end, the Corporation evaluates whether there is any objective evidence of impairment of financial assets or groups of financial assets. The Corporation performs an individual analysis of its financial assets to determine the allowance for bad debts. Factors taken into consideration to assess impairment are the age of the receivable, payment history and compliance with the current repayment agreement, if any. If such evidence exists, the carrying amount of the financial instrument as well as the related allowance is reduced to account for this loss in value.

The Corporation holds the following financial assets, some of which are recorded net of allowance for bad debts:

- Cash – Talent Fund;
- Accounts receivable, other than taxes to be recovered;
- Receivable from the Canada Media Fund;
- Loan.

Financial liabilities consist of:

- Accounts payable and accrued liabilities;
- Deferred revenues – Talent Fund;
- Financial assistance program obligations.

J. Liabilities for employee future benefits

i. Pension plan

Eligible employees of the Corporation benefit from the Public Service Pension Plan, a contributory-defined benefit plan constituted under an act and sponsored by the Government of Canada. Contributions to the plan are made by both employees and the Corporation. This pension plan provides benefits based on years of service, up to a maximum of 35 years and at an annual rate of 2% per year of pensionable service times the average earnings of the best five consecutive years. The benefits are coordinated with the Canada Pension Plan and Quebec Pension Plan benefits and are indexed to inflation. Employer contributions are based on the Public Service Pension Plan and reflect the full cost for the Corporation. This amount is based on a multiple of employee contributions and may change over time depending on the Plan's financial position. The Corporation's contributions are recognized during the year in which the services are rendered and represent its total pension benefit obligation. The Corporation is not required to make contributions in respect of any actuarial deficiencies of the Public Service Pension Plan.

ii. Severance benefits

Eligible employees were entitled to severance benefits as stipulated in their conditions of employment and the cost of these benefits was recognized in the statement of operations in the year in which they were earned. The severance benefit obligation was calculated based on management's assumptions and best estimates of future salary changes, employee age, years of service and the probability of departure due to resignation or retirement. Following the Treasury Board Secretariat's request, in September 2013 the Corporation decided to terminate these benefits. Since March 31, 2014, severance benefits are no longer accumulated and have been paid to most employees. The obligation is adjusted at fiscal year-end to reflect the current salary of employees who have decided to defer payment to the time of employment termination or retirement.

iii. Sick leave

Employees are entitled to sick leave as stipulated in their conditions of employment. Unused sick leave accrues but cannot be converted into cash. The cost of sick leave is recognized in the statement of operations in the year it is earned. The obligation is calculated on a present value basis using assumptions based on management's best estimates of the probability of use of accrued sick leave, future salary changes, employee age, the probability of departure, retirement age and the discount rate. These assumptions are reviewed annually.

iv. Parental leave

Employees are entitled to parental leave as stipulated in their conditions of employment. The Corporation tops up employees' employment insurance benefits up to a set percentage of their gross salary. The Corporation recognizes a liability for the entire duration of the parental leave at the time employees submit an application and sign the agreement as stipulated by their conditions of employment.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Fiscal year ended March 31, 2018

The amounts shown in the accompanying tables to the financial statements are expressed in thousands of Canadian dollars unless otherwise indicated.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONT.)

K. Tangible capital assets

Tangible capital assets are recorded at cost and are amortized on a straight-line basis over their respective useful lives using the following rates or periods:

Assets	Rates/periods
Leasehold improvements	Terms of the leases
Technological equipment	20%
Furniture	10%
Software	Between 10% and 25%

Tangible capital assets related to work in progress are not subject to amortization. When work in progress is completed, the tangible capital asset portion is reclassified to the appropriate line item of tangible capital assets and is amortized in accordance with the Corporation's policy.

L. Related party transactions

Related party transactions are accounted at exchange amount when they are undertaken on similar terms and conditions to those adopted if the entities were dealing at arm's length. The Corporation does not account for the estimated cost of services rendered without charges by a commonly controlled entity.

M. Adoption of new accounting standards

The Public Sector Accounting Board (PSAB) issued five new accounting standards effective for fiscal years beginning on or after April 1, 2017. On April 1, 2017, the Corporation adopted Section PS 3380 "Contractual Rights", which defines and establishes disclosure requirements on contractual rights. The adoption of this Section resulted in the addition of Note 12 on contractual rights. The Corporation also adopted the new accounting standards for related party disclosures (PS 2200), assets (PS 3210), contingent assets (PS 3320) and inter-entity transactions (PS 3420). The adoption of these standards did not result in a significant impact on the results and the financial position of the Corporation, nor on the disclosures included in the Corporation's financial statements.

RESTRICTED ASSETS AND LIABILITIES – CANADA NEW MEDIA FUND

Under contribution agreements with the Department of Canadian Heritage applicable to fiscal 2007-2008 and thereafter, all future receipts from projects previously funded via the Canada New Media Fund are to be returned to the Receiver General for Canada. The last related agreement with the Department of Canadian Heritage expired on March 31, 2010. These assets and liabilities are therefore subject to an external restriction.

LOAN

The Corporation has a lending agreement with production companies for which the principal balance is $240,400 as of March 31, 2018 ($240,400 as of March 31, 2017). The loan bears interest at the Royal Bank of Canada's prime rate plus 2.00%, computed on a daily basis. It is repayable based on the amounts to which the borrowers are entitled on future audiovisual productions. Repayment of interest is quarterly and started in August 2017. The loan has no guarantees and early repayment is possible at any time, without benefit or penalty.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM OBLIGATIONS

The Corporation is contractually committed to disburse sums under its financial assistance programs. The following table presents the expected payments in future years:

LIABILITIES FOR EMPLOYEE FUTURE BENEFITS

	Severance benefits	Sick leave	Parental leave	Total
Balance as at March 31, 2016	130	580	46	756
Cost for services rendered during the year	4	94	94	192

Benefits paid during the year	(28)	(112)	(88)	(228)
Balance as at March 31, 2018	109	559	96	764

A. Severance benefits obligation

The Corporation provided severance benefits to its eligible employees based on the nature of the departure, years of service and final salary at end of employment. This plan had no assets and a deficit equal to the accrued benefit obligation. These benefits ceased to accumulate as of March 31, 2014 as a result of the Corporation's decision to terminate these benefits. During the year, the obligation was adjusted to reflect the current salary of employees who have decided to defer payment to the time of employment termination or retirement. The benefits will be paid from future parliamentary appropriations.

B. Sick leave obligation

The Corporation provides employees with sick leave benefits based on their salary and the sick leave entitlements they accrue over their years of service. Employees can carry entitlements forward but not convert them into cash. This plan has no assets and a deficit equal to the accrued benefit obligation.

To calculate the sick leave obligation, the Corporation uses an average daily salary of $309 ($295 in 2017), a 2.84% rate of salary increase (2.60% in 2017), a 3.00 % annual average utilization rate (3.00% in 2017), a 2.19% discount rate (1.80% in 2017) and a 10.00% departure rate (10.00% in 2017). Benefits will be paid from future parliamentary appropriations and other funding sources.

C. Parental leave obligation

The Corporation tops up gross employment insurance benefits to 93.00% of the employee's gross salary. Benefits will be paid from future parliamentary appropriations.

D. Pension plan

The President of the Treasury Board of Canada sets the required employer contributions based on a multiple of employees' required contributions. The required employer contribution rate for 2018 is based on employees' start date. For start dates before January 1, 2013, the Corporation's contribution rate is 1.01 times the required employee contribution rate (1.15 times in 2017); for start dates after December 31, 2012, the Corporation's contribution rate is of 1.00 times the required employee contribution rate (1.11 times in 2017). Total contributions of $1,696,600 are recognized as an expense in 2018 in salaries and employee benefits (2017 – $1,625,300).

< 11 >

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

A. Fair value

Cash – Talent Fund, accounts receivable other than taxes to be recovered, receivable from the Canada Media Fund, loan, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, deferred revenues – Talent Fund and financial assistance program obligations are in the normal course of the Corporation's operations.

These financial instruments are measured at cost or amortized cost. Given that the Corporation holds no derivatives or equity instruments, no fair value measurement is required. Accordingly, the Corporation has not prepared a statement of remeasurement gains and losses.

B. Financial risk management objectives and policy

The Corporation is exposed to various financial risks arising from its operations. Management of financial risks is overseen by the Corporation's management. The Corporation does not enter into financial instrument contracts, such as derivatives, for speculative purposes.

i. Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is defined as the Corporation's exposure to a loss in interest revenue or an impairment loss on financial instruments resulting from a change in interest rate. As substantially all the Corporation's financial instruments are short term, any change in interest rate would not have a material impact on the Corporation's financial statements. The Corporation's interest rate risk exposure is not significant.

ii. Liquidity risk

The Corporation is exposed to liquidity risk as a result of its financial liabilities: accounts payable and accrued liabilities, deferred revenues – Talent Fund and financial assistance program obligations (Note 8). The following table shows the contractual maturities of accounts payable and accrued liabilities:

	March 31, 2018	March 31, 2017
1-30 days	2,673	2,962
31-90 days	–	–
91 days to 1 year	276	272
Total carrying amount and contractual cash flows	2,949	3,234

The Corporation believes that current and future cash flows from operations and access to additional cash from parliamentary appropriations will be adequate to meet its obligations. Under the oversight of senior management, the Corporation manages its cash resources based on expected cash flow.

iii. Credit risk

The financial instruments that could expose the Corporation to a credit concentration risk consist mainly of accounts receivable other than taxes to be recovered, receivable from the Canada Media Fund and the loan.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Fiscal year ended March 31, 2018

The amounts shown in the accompanying tables to the financial statements are expressed in thousands of Canadian dollars unless otherwise indicated.

11. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (CONT.)Accounts receivable

There is no concentration of accounts receivable from any client in particular, due to the nature of the client base and its geographic coverage. The Corporation is therefore protected against credit risk concentration. As at March 31, 2018, the maximum credit risk exposure to accounts receivable other than taxes to be recovered is equal to their carrying amount. The Corporation holds no security in respect of its claims. Accounts receivable, other than taxes to be recovered, by maturity and the related allowance for bad debts are detailed as follows:

	March 31, 2018	March 31, 2017
Current – 30 days	1,108	981
31 – 90 days	20	291
91 days and over	1,082	1,049
Gross accounts receivable	2,210	2,321
Allowance for bad debts
Balance, beginning of year	600	603
Bad debt expense	140	22
Debts written off and collections	(42)	(25)
Balance, end of year	698	600
Net accounts receivable	1,512	1,721

Receivable from the Canada Media Fund

The Receivable from the Canada Media Fund does not give rise to credit risk exposure given that the funds are to be recovered from a granting agency under the jurisdiction of the Department of Canadian Heritage. Management fees are invoiced on a quarterly basis and the amount is payable 30 days following the invoice date.

Loan

There is no reason to believe that the loan presents any particular credit risk as the Corporation deems the fulfillment of conditional repayment clauses probable.

< 12 >

CONTRACTUAL RIGHTS

The Corporation has signed contribution agreements with Bell Media and Corus Entertainment for the Talent Fund. Future revenues are $5,219,000 ($7,384,000 in 2017) and will be received as follows:

	2019	2020	2021	Total
Bell Media	1,357	714	714	2,785
Corus Entertainment	808	808	818	2,434
	2,165	1,522	1,532	5,219

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Fiscal year ended March 31, 2018

The amounts shown in the accompanying tables to the financial statements are expressed in thousands of Canadian dollars unless otherwise indicated.

< 13 >

COMMITMENTS

The Corporation has entered into long-term leases for the rental of office space and equipments and for access to the cloud platform for its operations. Future payments amount to $11,774,000 ($13,048,000 in 2017) and are payable as follows:

	Total
2019	1,845
2020	2,139
2021	1,906
2022	1,802
2023 and thereafter	4,082
	11,774

< 14 >

CONTINGENCIES

Various lawsuits have been brought against the Corporation in the normal course of operations. Management estimates that the final outcome of these lawsuits should not have a significant impact on the financial statements. Accordingly, no provision has been recognized in the Corporation's accounts.

RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Corporation is related in terms of common ownership to all Government of Canada departments, agencies and Crown corporations as well as its key management personnel, close family members of these and the entities subject to the control of these individuals. The Corporation's transactions with these entities are in the normal course of operations. These transactions are recognized at exchange amount, except for audit of the financial statements, without valuable consideration, which is not recognized in the Statement of Operations.

B. COSTS OF CANADA MEDIA FUND PROGRAMS

Eligible costs for management fees are defined in the services agreement with the Canada Media Fund. During the fiscal year, the Corporation invoiced a total amount of $9,397,137 ($10,983,887 in 2017) for the administration of Canada Media Fund programs, including $2,666,213 ($2,779,532 in 2017) for the departments in support of operations.

	2018 Budget	2018	2017

Departments in support of operations	2,666	2,995	2,947
Other costs	103	128	1,588
	9,553	9,726	11,151

Management, administration and program delivery and shared services departments

Fees for management, administration and program delivering consist of salary costs attributable to fund managers, operational support administrative employees and employees specialized in program delivery activities. Costs of shared services departments arise from salaries and employee benefits relating to departments servicing all programs, namely Finance, and Information, Performance and Risk.

Departments in support of operations

These costs consist of costs incurred to support all employees assigned to management, administration and program delivery, as well as employees providing shared services. They consist of costs relating to human resources, information technology and material resources departments. These costs mainly comprise salaries, professional services, rent and information technology costs. These costs do not include tangible capital asset amortization expense.

Other costs

Other costs arise from operating costs, other than salaries and amortization, generated by management, administration and program delivery, as well as shared services departments and acquisition costs of certain tangible capital assets.
